Supportive Smart Homes Frank Knoefel, Bruce Wallace, Neil Thomas, Heidi Sveistrup, Rafik Goubran, Christine L. Laurin, 2024-10-12 Significant health industry human resource needs increase the reliance on family and friends to support older adults hoping to age in place. This book explores how recent improvements in integrated home technologies have the potential to address those challenges. The book considers how embedded home sensors can be used to monitor the health and wellbeing of older adults and how that can be used to assist with supporting safety and wellbeing. The content is designed to help multiple stakeholders in the supportive smart home space to better understand the complexity of this field and the need for transdisciplinary collaboration. These stakeholders include the older adults who will benefit from supportive smart home technology, informal and formal caregivers and healthcare professionals concerned about the older adult's wellbeing, researchers from multiple disciplines in the supportive smart home area and their funders, companies looking to develop solutions and services or expand their offerings, policy makers who want to ensure privacy and equity in access and a successful integration of these technologies into the evolving health and social services sectors, and students, the future leaders in AgeTech. Overall, the intent of the book is to inspire engineers, computer scientists, industrial designers, clinicians, and healthcare providers, social scientists, students, policy makers, and older adults and their caregivers to collaborate in advancing the supportive smart home space to develop more options for aging in place. Connects rapidly evolving field of smart home technology with supportive care systems for older adults. Provides insight for older adults, caregivers, researchers, developers, and policy makers. Establishes points of intervention to improve quality of life for older adults in home environments.

Getting Your Home to Work for You Ronald Nutter, 2018-06 DIY Home Automation

Building Automated System Housing Lenard Nemerofsky, 2021-03-27 Making your house smarter could be addictive. Smart homes offer a promising approach to assisted living for the aging population. Do you want to change your home attitude, status, and make your home smart but aren't sure where to begin? Are you worried about hackers taking control of your smart devices? Do you want to research smart home systems and products to make a smart home that keeps your family entertained, comfortable, and improving home security? Read what some global thought leaders think is your practical guide to take advantage of the many benefits of home automation. You will be amazed at what the future will bring, but even more about what's possible today. Futurist John Patrick points the way for all of us. The book provides ways to make your home smart with an excellent overview of how a hands-on homeowner can build an automated home that is energy efficient, secure, and just plain fun. The author clearly explains the many benefits of an automated home, its key building blocks, and how to get started.

Handbook of Smart Homes, Health Care and Well-Being Joost van Hoof, George Demiris, Eveline J.M. Wouters, 2016-03-14 Smart homes, home automation, and ambient assisted living are terms used to describe technological systems that enrich our living environment and provide means to support care, facilitate wellbeing, and improve comfort. This handbook provides an overview of the domain from the perspective of health care and technology In Part 1 we set out to describe the demographic changes in society including ageing and diseases and impairments which lead to the needs for technological solutions In Part 2 we describe the technological solutions ranging from sensor based networks components to communication protocols that are used in the design of smart homes We also deal with biomedical features which can be measured and services that can be delivered to end users as well as the use of social robots In Part 3 we present best practices in the field These best practices mainly focus on existing projects in Europe the USA and Asia in which people receive help through dedicated technological solutions being part of the continuum of the home environment and care
