inequalities yet rarely have we gotten an intimate look inside these companies In Geek Girls France Winddance Twine provides the first book by a sociologist that lifts the Silicon veil to provide firsthand accounts of inequality and opportunity in the tech ecosystem This work draws on close to a hundred interviews with male and female technology workers of diverse racial ethnic and educational backgrounds who are currently employed at tech firms such as Apple Facebook Google and Twitter and at various start ups in the San Francisco Bay area Geek Girls captures what it is like to work as a technically skilled woman in Silicon Valley With a sharp eye for detail and compelling testimonials from industry insiders Twine shows how the technology industry remains rigged against women and especially Black Latinx and Native American women from working class backgrounds From recruitment and hiring practices that give priority to those with family friends and classmates employed in the industry to social and educational segregation to academic prestige hierarchies Twine reveals how women are blocked from entering this industry Women who do not belong to the dominant ethnic groups in the industry are denied employment opportunities and even actively pushed out despite their technical skills and qualifications While the technology firms strongly embrace the rhetoric of diversity and oppose discrimination in the workplace Twine argues that closed social networks and routine hiring practices described by employees reinforce the status quo and reproduce inequality The myth of meritocracy and gender stereotypes operate in tandem to produce a culture where the use of race color and power evasive language makes it difficult for individuals to name the micro aggressions and forms of discrimination that they experience Twine offers concrete insights into how the technology industry can address ongoing racial and gender disparities create more transparency and empower women from underrepresented groups who continued to be denied opportunities

Acculturated Naomi Schaefer Riley, Christine Rosen, 2012-09-01 Contemporary popular culture from books to film to television to music to the deepest corners of the internet has provoked much criticism some of it well deserved Yet popular culture is culture for many Americans particularly younger Americans It is the only kind of cultural experience they seek and the currency in which they trade In Acculturated twenty three thinkers examine the rituals the myths the tropes the peculiar habits the practices and the neuroses of our modern era Every culture finds a way for people to tell stories about themselves We rely on these stories to teach us why we do the things we do to test the limits of our experience to reaffirm deeply felt truths about human nature and to teach younger generations about vice and virtue honor and shame and a great deal more A phenomenon like the current crop of reality television shows for example with their bevy of real housewives super size families and toddler beauty pageant candidates seems an unlikely place to find truths about human nature or examples of virtue And yet on these shows and in much else of what passes for popular culture these days a surprising theme emerges Move beyond the visual excess and hyperbole and you will find the makings of classic morality tales As the title suggests readers will find in these pages A Culture Rated This lively roundtable of raters includes renowned cultural critics like Caitlin Flannigan and Chuck Colson and celebrated culture creators like the producers of the hit ABC comedy Modern Family and the host of TLC's What Not to Wear Editors Christine Rosen and Naomi Schaefer Riley have tasked these contributors both the critics and the insiders with taking a step or two back from the unceasing din of popular culture so that they might better judge its value and its values and help readers think more deeply about the meaning of the narratives with which they are bombarded every waking minute In doing so the editors hope to foster a wide reaching public conversation to help us think more clearly about our culture CONTRIBUTORS INCLUDE Judy Bachrach Megan Basham Mark Bauerlein Pia Catton Chuck Colson Paul Corrigan Caitlin Flanagan Meghan Cox Gurdon Margo Howard Kay S Hymowitz Jonathan V Last Herb London
