Parliamentary Debates Victoria. Parliament,1890 The Post Office Clerk ,1911 Speculative Time Paul Crosthwaite,2024-01-30 Speculative Time American Literature in an Age of Crisis examines how a climate of financial and economic speculation and disaster shaped the literary culture of the United States in the early to mid twentieth century It argues that speculation s risk laden and crisis prone temporalities had major impacts on writing in the period as well as on important aspects of visual representation The conceptions of time and especially futurity arising from the theory and practice of speculation provided crucial models for writers and other artists aesthetic intellectual and political concerns and strategies The attractions and dangers of speculation were most spectacularly apparent in the period s pivotal economic event the Wall Street Crash of 1929 The book offers an innovative account of how the speculative boom and bust of the Roaring Twenties affected literary and cultural production in the United States It situates the stock market gyrations of the 1920s and 1930s within a wider culture of speculation that was profoundly shaped by but extended well beyond the brokerages and trading floors of Wall Street The early to mid twentieth century was a speculative time an age characterized by leaps of economic political intellectual and literary speculation and the notion of speculative time provides a means of understanding the period s characteristic temporal modes and textures as evident in work by figures including F Scott Fitzgerald John Dos Passos Nathan Asch William Faulkner Federico Garc a Lorca James N Rosenberg Margaret Bourke White Archibald MacLeish Christina Stead Claude McKay Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison Marriage, Violence and the Nation in the American Literary West William R. Handley,2002-08-15 In Marriage Violence and the Nation in the American Literary West William R Handley examines literary interpretations of the Western American past Handley argues that although scholarship provides a narrative of western history that counters optimistic story of frontier individualism by focusing on the victims of conquest twentieth century American fiction tells a different story of intra ethnic violence surrounding marriages and families He examines works of historiography as well as writing by Zane Grey Willa Cather

Wallace Stegner and Joan Didion among others to argue that these works highlight white Americans anxiety about what happens to American character when domestic enemies such as Indians and Mormon polygamists against whom the nation had defined itself in the nineteenth century no longer threaten its homes Handley explains that once its enemies are gone imperialism brings violence home in retrospective narratives that allegorise national pasts and futures through intimate relationships
