Ruby Bridges was a little girl who did a big thing. In 1960, when she was only six years old, Ruby became the first Black student to go to an all-white elementary school in the South.

Ruby lived in New Orleans, Louisiana. Back then, many schools were segregated. This means that Black children and white children went to different schools. Ruby's parents wanted her to have a better education, so they decided to send her to an all-white school.

On her first day of the new school, Ruby was very brave. She had to walk past angry crowds who didn't want her there. To keep her safe, federal marshals walked with her. Ruby's teacher, Mrs. Henry, was kind and helped her learn. Even though it was hard, Ruby went to school every day. She didn't give up. Ruby's courage helped change things. More Black students started going to schools with white students.

Today, Ruby Bridges is grown up. She still works to make sure all children can go to good schools together. Ruby's story teaches us that one person, even a child, can make a big difference in the world.
