Accelerating Network Functions Using Reconfigurable Hardware Ralf Kundel, 2024-04-18 This book reports on new concepts and methods to design network functions on programmable hardware to accelerate connectivity First it introduces the host bypassing concept for improved integration of hardware accelerators in computer systems operating 5G radio access networks This novel concept bypassed the system's main memory and established direct connectivity between the accelerator and network interface card This concept leads to improved throughput and significantly lowered latency jitter compared to existing methods Second the book analyzes different programmable hardware technologies for hardware accelerated Internet subscriber handling including three P4 programmable platforms and FPGAs It shows that all the approaches have excellent performance and are suitable for Internet access creation In turn it presents a fully fledged accelerated User Plane Function UPF designed upon these concepts and its testing in an end to end 5G standalone network Third it analyses and demonstrates the usability of Active Queue Management AQM algorithms on programmable hardware as an expansion to the access edge It shows the feasibility of the CoDel AQM algorithm and discusses the challenges and constraints to be considered when limited hardware is used resulting in significant improvements in the Quality of Service Furthermore the P4STA measurement framework is introduced a network function benchmarking concept combining precise hardware based time measurement methods with software based load generation to simultaneously ensure high measurement accuracy and flexibility Researchers and professionals will find in this book new solutions to improve both fixed and mobile internet access networks offering an informative and inspiring reading for researchers and professionals involved in building the next generation of access edge networks and underlying technology
