Moroccan Folktales Jilali El Koudia, 2018-02-08 Drawing on stories he heard as a boy from female relatives Jilali El Koudia presents a cross section of utterly bewitching narratives Filled with ghouls and fools kind magic and wicked eternal bonds and earthly wishes these are mesmerizing stories to be savored studied or simply treasured Varied genres include anecdotes legends and animal fables and some tales bear strong resemblance to European counterparts for example Aamar and his Sister Hansel and Gretel and Nunja and the White Dove Cinderella All capture the heart of Morocco and the soul of its people In an enlightening introduction El Koudia mourns the loss of the teller of tales in the marketplace and he makes it clear that storytelling born of memory and oral tradition could vanish in the face of mass and electronic media Lebanon / Liban Nadia Tuéni, 2006-04-25 This bilingual anthology edited by Christophe Ippolito contains Samuel Hazo's complete translation of Lebanon Twenty Poems for One Love and Paul B Kelley's selections from the never before translated Sentimental Archives of a War in Lebanon The Francophone poet Nadia Tuéni has devoted readers in Lebanon and elsewhere in the Middle East and has quickly achieved poetic distinction in France The fluency of her poetic language and motifs reflecting Tuéni's love of her people and country is illuminated in Ippolito's introduction She chose to create a new poetic language that captured the fragile essence of her troubled country and exposed the many crises of identities present in the war By identifying with her country she placed herself beyond all parties and created a sacred river that irrigates her poems Drawn from two collections that were published during the civil war in Lebanon in 1979 and 1982 these poems are haunted by the Lebanese war some transcend famous Lebanese locales as the symbolic incarnations of the land's eternal essence others illuminated at first by nostalgic memories take on a prophetic tone Tuéni's work merges the poetic with the political landscape of her country She writes I belong to a country that commits suicide every day while it is being assassinated The languages of Rimbaud Lautréamont and surrealist poetry have had a decisive influence on Tuéni's poetry But she also owes a great debt on the Arabic side to the avant garde poets for example the celebrated Adonis Like many Lebanese writers Tuéni was active in political circles particularly after the war in 1967 Her poems tell of suffering memories of an abandoned garden slip away of her own life slipping away and in the end the reader is invited to reflect on the mimesis of identity identity of a country identity of a woman each echoing the other Granada Radwa Ashour, 2003-10-01 Radwa Ashour skillfully weaves a history of Granadan rule and an Arabic world into a novel that evokes cultural loss and the disappearance of a vanquished population The novel follows the family of Abu Jaafar the bookbinder his wife widowed daughter in law her two children and his two apprentices as they witness Christopher Columbus and his entourage in a triumphant parade featuring exotic plants animals human captives from the New World Embedded in the narrative is the preparation for the marriage of Saad one of the apprentices and Saleema Abu Jaafar's granddaughter which is elegantly revealed in a number of parallel scenes As the new rulers of Granada confiscate books and officials burn the collected volumes Abu Jaafar quietly moves his rich library out
