being exposed Secrets that will shatter the reality that I've built around me Around Sebastian The wounds of the past will be ripped open but my pain won't compare to Sebastian's when Seraphina gets her hands on him Nothing will ever be the same now that I'm learning of his past Soon everything will come to light One painful memory at a time I'll walk this path of truth and in the end I don't know what I will find I'll have to decide where my allegiance and love will fall when everything is laid bare When I find out just how twisted that web of lies was woven Will the gift of love be worth the sacrifice nature of the book He optionally even asks if anyone wants to use their own book if so he will do a Hoy book test with the book provided With a spectator chosen and the book provided the spectator is asked to first examine the book Once they are happy with the book the spectator is asked to think of any page in the book mentally without saying it out loud The performer mentions that even if he memorized the whole book without knowing a page number that memorization would be useless The spectator is instructed to open the book to the page he is thinking of and read the first complete sentence He is warned that the book might have some erotic content and if that sentence is embarrassing he is to choose another When the sentence is chosen he is asked to re read it silently He is to focus on the sentence and if possible on a word that is easy to picture The book is put away The performer draws his impression Afterwards he asks what image is in the person s mind The spectator is asked to draw it in the air or to just say the sentence or the easy to picture word depends on the presentation It turns out that the performer s impression is spot on The book can be now given away as a souvenir the performer switches it for the much less expensive real book since he can get it for this purpose in bulk at decent prices Bare bones presentation Book is introduced Its existence on Amazon and other stores is highlighted Person thinks of a page turns to it with the performer facing away The person is then told to read the first full sentence on that page to himself herself Person focuses on the sentence and then on a word that is easy to picture in the sentence Performer faces away all the time draws a heart and then reveals the heart to the person and the audience Method You use a book that is gimmicked in a way It is a version of a real novel but one where sentences were written in on the beginning of each page first full sentence to contain the word heart These sentences fit the story perfectly In fact they were edited by Anna Zaires the author of the actual novel Thus the book can be examined very closely before the effect After the effect however I strongly recommend putting the book out of sight and or switching it for the original un gimmicked version I usually give away a copy of an un gimmicked book at every performance My switch is super simple as part of the presentation I have the book put into a bag Then when I do the giveaway I give away the real u ngimmicked version I have also used switch bags and other method for switching During a formal show no one ever asks to examine the book after the effect but during close up they sometimes do and I use one of the methods mentioned Subtleties This book has sexual content think fifty shades of gray so I often say if the page you open to happens to have something embarrassing on it just choose another This emphasizes the freedom of choice of page and how regular the book is why would you ever put sex scenes into a trick book When drawing the heart I first often draw something that looks like heart rate monitor output It helps disguise what I am drawing plus it can be part of the revelation because very many sentences in the book deal with heart beating faster in some way I put a period after Volume I on page 1 of the gimmicked book for easy way to check which of the 2 I am holding Equinox Wayne Kyle Spitzer,2018-12-18 It was a moment that would stretch indefinitely until they lay naked and depleted in the over cab bedroom of his fifth wheeler which was parked in the diner s back lot at which time she whispered even while edging toward sleep Your ring It glowed as we danced did you know that His body stiffened immediately It what Your hard to explain ring she said and giggled a little It it lit up Where on earth did you get that thing I ve never seen anything like He sat up with a start everything about him seeming suddenly electrified suddenly rigid What color was it She tittered hesitantly And that matters because He grabbed her by the throat not particularly hard but enough to hurt What color was it Her mind reeled Hasn t it always been just a matter of when Green It was green You re you re hurting me He released her suddenly and looked out the window Green by the gods What shade He looked at her abruptly What shade Sarah She began to inch away from him slowly Just just green Dark green I think It it only did it for And then she was scrambling disentangling herself from the sheets tumbling dangerously down the thickly carpeted stairs climbing to her bare feet A gunshot rang out as she reached for the door and wood chips exploded from the cabinets above her Open that door and we die do you understand She looked to see him crouched at the top of the stairs pistol in hand The best we can hope for now is to remain still and pray they don t find us Now step away from the door do it She stared at him for several breaths her heart hammering in her chest wondering if he would really shoot if he was really that crazy Dark green by the gods Thazgul Yes she could see now that he was Could see it just as clear as day Could see that he d always been crazy and had always looked it she d just been too stupid to see too needy too agreeable Hasn t it always been just a matter of when

The Girl by the River Amicus,2014-11-03 An artist travels to a remote but beloved spring to sketch the river and its verdant surrounds when he meets a lovely creature in sparkling pastel gauze wearing a crown of flowers who unexpectedly dances for him Is it the heat or her allure He has to have her Together they share something magical something that transcends the marks on his sketchpad an incendiary lust that bind them forever EXCERPT I knew it The sharp high pitched female voice startled me into an auto responsive jerk and defensive posture as I went rigid in the chair What the hell Sorry I didn t mean to frighten you My head had already swung around to the source of the voice and it surprised me that she stood so close how could I have not heard her approach For a moment I could find nothing to say She was tiny fragile barefooted and was wearing ah I don t even know how to describe the layers of gauze like material that clung to her shoulders and hung down just below her knees A shimmering wavering image of pastel blues and greens and sparkles and a damned Princess crown of flowers on her head woven into her hair and looking as if it belonged there Stunned to silence I could only gasp and blink my eyes You left cigarette butts all over the place No one ever comes here It took me a while to figure it out I was right you are an artist and I think I know what you are drawing May I see The high pitch to her voice was gone and replaced with a soft female huskiness that I felt rather than heard I stuttered out my reply still recovering from the shock of her being here Sure uh I don t mind Thanks Some artists won t let you see until it is finished I followed her with my eyes as she moved behind me and leaned down looking over my shoulder to share the perspective I could see her head move slightly from side to side and then up and down as she compared the canvas to the scene before us Oh Gosh I had a little shiver I see what you want Wow And it works I can almost see the water moving in the river And it is like the trees and bushes ah are alive and aware of what the river brings Oh Then she moved alongside the chair and moved her head quickly from canvas to scene That tree is not there Oh I see It needed to be there She continued shifting her glance and pointed at both the canvas and the natural scene surrounding us Then she stopped and paused and folded her arms across her chest After a moment she turned and walked slowly away and paced in a small circle a few steps away After a bit she turned and walked back paused to my left and a little in front of me and looked intensely down at my face Some artists don t take suggestions well She left the words just hanging I studied her face as she kept my gaze Fragile sculpted lines fine lines formed her face High forehead wide set eyes Eyes God An almost translucent blue that seemed to draw me into her Amazing stunning a small mouth not full lipped or thin but warm and almost petulant and teasing and uplifted at each corner with a small crease of shadowed muscle on just one side Oh to try to capture her face You always wear that beard I think my staring upset her You always wear a wreath of flowers in your hair She smiled and colored slightly and made a little titter I love this place I came here to dance as a young girl I dress like the place makes me feel I am so happy you see it too Now I was a little embarrassed her open honesty was real and it touched me I turned back to look at my canvas again
