

HOW TO USE A CREDIT CARD

Once you have your credit card, you can use it three main ways.

IN PERSON

When you purchase something at a store the cashier will swipe your card or you will insert the microchip into a credit card machine at the register.

BY PHONE

You can purchase things or pay bills over the phone. Just give your name, account number, expiration date, and security code.

ONLINE

You can also purchase items online. When it comes time to pay for your purchase, fill out the credit card information at checkout.

NEW CREDIT CARD TECHNOLOGY

RADIO FREQUENCY IDENTIFICATION (RFID)

RFID is a small chip found on some credit cards. It allows you to tap the card to the credit card machine to pay.

NEAR-FIELD COMMUNICATION (NFC)

NFC technology is similar to RFID. Except you don't need your credit card in-hand to pay. Instead, tap your smart watch, phone, or device to the credit card machine to pay.
