Education on Digital Cultural and Social Media Dr. S. Saileela and Dr. S. Kalaivani, 2019-11-27 In the globalization era social media become more popular in everyone's daily life with its user friendly and effective functions. Social media support the people across the world in communicating, meeting new people, making socialization, sharing knowledge, learning different experiences and interacting with each other instead of distance and separation between persons. Moreover, social media can encourage the increasing of intercultural adaptation level of people who are facing different cultural experiences in new communities. The study shows that people use social media to become more adaptable with the new cultures of the host countries and to preserve their connections with home countries. Mental Health, Social Media, and the Meta Dov Greenbaum, Nazanin Alavi, 2024-11-11. One of the most damaging externalities from the recent pandemic has been the rise in mental health issues. Many psychiatric disorders have strong genetic components and although the extent of the genetic influence for many conditions has been extensively tested by genome wide association studies (GWAS), there remains much to be understood regarding the genetics of these health issues. Twin studies, for example, have found a relatively high rate of inheritance for depression and anxiety disorders. To better appreciate the role that genetics plays in these disorders, it is useful to understand the extent to which other factors also contribute to the condition. Other major contributing factors to mental disorders are the environment and psychological factors. These environmental and psychological concerns have been further exacerbated by the growth of social media and the requirement, especially for young adults and teenagers, to always be on. It is likely that the metaverse, in whatever form it ultimately takes, will further exacerbate these conditions. On the other hand, social media and the metaverse can be tools to help those suffering from mental health conditions. Online therapists and bots can provide frontline care to those who can't or won't go to an in-person therapy session. AI can be employed to provide some forms of therapy in light of the growing demand for licensed therapists and the limited supply. Mood Prep 101 Carol Landau, 2020-07-01. Rates of depression are skyrocketing in young people between the ages of 12 and 20. Parents whose children are at increased risk for anxiety and depression find themselves especially concerned about how to help their kids achieve a safe, healthy and fulfilling college experience. Written with humor and compassion, Mood Prep 101: A Parent's Guide to Preventing Depression and Anxiety in College Bound Teens answers the question most parents have: What can we do when it comes to college bound teens who may be vulnerable to depression or anxiety.
