In AI We Trust Helga Nowotny, 2021-08-19 One of the most persistent concerns about the future is whether it will be dominated by the predictive algorithms of AI and if so what this will mean for our behaviour for our institutions and for what it means to be human AI changes our experience of time and the future and challenges our identities yet we are blinded by its efficiency and fail to understand how it affects us At the heart of our trust in AI lies a paradox we leverage AI to increase our control over the future and uncertainty while at the same time the performativity of AI the power it has to make us act in the ways it predicts reduces our agency over the future This happens when we forget that that we humans have created the digital technologies to which we attribute agency These developments also challenge the narrative of progress which played such a central role in modernity and is based on the hubris of total control We are now moving into an era where this control is limited as AI monitors our actions posing the threat of surveillance but also offering the opportunity to reappropriate control and transform it into care As we try to adjust to a world in which algorithms robots and avatars play an ever increasing role we need to understand better the limitations of AI and how their predictions affect our agency while at the same time having the courage to embrace the uncertainty of the future Critical Literacy in an AI World Kathy A. Mills, Amanda

Gutierrez, 2025-12-18 Critical Literacy in an AI World is an innovative book that uses critical literary perspectives to examine generative AI It provides thought provoking insights into advancements in artificial intelligence which are increasingly entangled in human decision making across all spheres of society profoundly reshaping literacy and media practices Mills and Gutierrez analyse how these transformations affect and are affected by the evolving nature of human knowledge consciousness creativity emotion ethics and aesthetics They highlight the importance of critical literacy for understanding and even reclaiming the power dynamics operating in the social construction of the human experience within AI driven texts and technologies This book encourages readers to critically navigate computational algorithms and agents that mediate digital social practices and daily life Blending theoretical frameworks and practical applications it advances students critical AI based digital reading and authoring skills as well as teachers capabilities to use critical pedagogies curricula and assessment for reflective AI text environments Critical Literacy in an AI World is essential reading for students and researchers in literacy and educational technology Metagrammar Erik Camayd-Freixas, 2025-07-13 This book highlights the grammatical structure of thought and behavior as a blueprint for scientific discovery and innovation It defines the new concept of metagrammar as the unnoticed transfer of linguistic functions and skills to and from our interaction with the world Viewing grammar as language engineering the author argues that metagrammar charts a new mode of reasoning central to critical thinking problem solving and goal setting in all areas of human endeavor He shows how metagrammatical structures and genres mediate in the conceptualization of phenomena as well as in the production of plans policies systems and designs This uniquely human capability is contrasted with mechanistic models in computers and AI that threaten to replace human agency and decision making This book will be of interest to the educated reader who wants to keep abreast of transformational research in language and cognition as it applies to self and society current events digital media and emerging technologies from artificial intelligence to autonomous systems from a human centered perspective It will be particularly relevant to organizations such as the Modern Languages Association for its focus on linguistic and narrative theory cultural studies and critical theory IoT and AI Technologies for Sustainable Living Abid Hussain, Garima
