John Castagno's Artists Signatures and Monograms have become the standard reference source for galleries, museums, libraries, and collectors around the world. Whether used to identify, authenticate, or verify signatures and works of both well-known and little-known artists, Castagno's work has no equal. In this new volume, Castagno has collected more than 1,100 signatures and monograms of Jewish artists, as well as signatures of artists whose work reflects Jewish themes. In addition to the standard signature entries found in Castagno's other books, this volume features additional biographical information, providing a more complete profile of the artist and his or her work. All artists are listed with the most updated information on nationality, birth, and/or death dates. The entries direct the researcher to many biographical and bibliographical sources not found on web site searches, and many of the resources offer additional references. Several individual listings provide gallery referrals and catalog auction dates, which can be used to buy or sell a particular artist's work. The use of Jewish Artists Signatures and Monograms provides the researcher a reference tool not duplicated elsewhere, one that will save many hours of research. Personal Exposures. Elliott Erwitt, 2012-06-19. Elliott Erwitt's eye for humor catches at the same time the subtle hint of tragedy. Seeing what few others see and capturing it for all of us is the essence of Personal Exposures. For this volume, Elliott painstakingly culled the work of a lifetime, rediscovering prints he had not seen in years and creating a unified whole that reflects a consistent, mature vision of photography and humanity. Here are men, women, and children in off-guard moments; old people, little girls, hamming it up; and even various dogs who have their own preoccupations. The pictures reflect a lifetime of humorous, ironic observation and sensitivity to the human condition.

Photography in 100 Words. David Clark, 2009. The question "What is photography?" is not an easy one to answer. Many thousands of words have been written in an effort to do so in academic journals and in books by cultural commentators such as Susan Sontag and Roland Barthes. If we acknowledge that it is impossible to provide a definitive answer, can we at least distill the meaning of photography into somewhat fewer words and get to the very essence of the medium without diminishing its importance as an art form? This book aims to do just that. David Clark has selected 50 iconic images by some of the world's greatest photographers and asked them to explain how the pictures were made and their creative approach. From these interviews, he has chosen 100 words that encapsulate their philosophy, and which are picked out in bold in the text. The highlighted words work on two levels As well as giving insights into iconic images from the photographers who took them they build over the course of the book into a unique creative lexicon of the photographic medium one which crystallises its many aims and functions perspectives and meanings Thought provoking insightful and inspirational Photography in 100 Words will appeal to all photographers and anyone who seeks a better understanding of the medium David Clark is a photography journalist and author He was the senior features writer on Amateur Photographer magazine for nine years during which time he met and interviewed many of the world s great photographers Elliot Erwit Snaps Murray Sayle, Charles Flowers, 2013-03-19 The first major monograph on the leading Magnum photographer Elliott Erwit
