People And Place The Extraordinary Geographies Of Everyday Life:

People and Place Lewis Holloway, Phil Hubbard, 2014-01-14 An innovative introduction to Human Geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography. The book covers behavioural, humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis. The authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity. While taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in people's everyday lives, the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades. By using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home, the way they avoid certain spaces, how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university, how they use the Internet, how they represent other nations and so on, the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important. The Routledge Handbook of Place Tim Edensor, Ares Kalandides, Uma Kothari, 2020-05-26 The handbook presents a compendium of the diverse and growing approaches to place from leading authors as well as less widely known scholars providing a comprehensive yet cutting edge overview of theories, concepts and creative engagements with place that resonate with contemporary concerns and debates. The volume moves away from purely western based conceptions and discussions about place to include perspectives from across the world. It includes an introductory chapter which outlines key definitions, draws out influential historical and contemporary approaches to the theorisation of place and sketches out the structure of the book explaining the logic of the seven clearly themed sections. Each section begins with a short introductory essay that provides identifying key ideas and contextualises the essays that follow. The original and distinctive contributions from both new and leading authorities from across the discipline provide a wide, rich and comprehensive collection that chimes with current critical thinking in geography. The book captures the dynamism and multiplicity of current geographical thinking about place by including both state of the art in depth critical overviews of theoretical approaches to place and new explorations and cases that chart a framework for future research. It charts the multiple ways in which place might be conceived, situated and practised. This unique comprehensive and rich collection will be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate teaching for experienced academics across a wide range of disciplines and for policymakers and place marketers. It will provide an invaluable and up to date guide to current thinking across the range of disciplines such as Geography, Sociology and Politics and interdisciplinary fields such as Urban Studies, Environmental Studies and Planning.

Exploring Community Festivals and Events Allan Jepson, Alan Clarke, 2014-10-17 The development of the festival and event industry has seen large scale growth and extensive government support as a result of objectives to enhance and project the image of place and leverage positive sponsorship and regeneration opportunities As we move deeper into austerity measures prompted by economic recession community festivals and events as a sacred or profane time of celebration can be considered even more important than ever before This book for the first time explores the role and importance of community culture and its impact through festivals and events Split into two distinct sections the first introduces key themes and concepts contextualises local traditions and culture and investigates how festivals and events can act as a catalyst for tourism and create a sense of community It then questions the social and political nature of festivals and community events through examining their ownership The second section focuses on communities themselves seeking to examine and discuss key emerging themes in community event studies such as the role of diaspora imagined communities pride and identity history producing and consuming space and place authenticity and multi ethnic communities Examples are drawn from Portugal the Dominican Republic the USA Malaysia Malta Finland and Australia making this book truly international This significant volume will be valuable reading for students and academics across the fields of Event Tourism and Hospitality studies as well as other social science disciplines

Caring in Times of Precarity Chow Yiu Fai, 2018-12-14 Caring in Times of Precarity draws together two key cultural observations the increase in those living a single life and the growing attraction of creative careers Straddling this historical juncture the book focuses on one particular group of precariat single women in Shanghai in various forms of creative self employment While negotiating their share of the uncanny creative work ethos these women also find themselves interpellated as shengn left over women in a society configured by a mix of Confucian values heterosexual ideals and global images of womanhood Following these women s professional social and intimate lives the book refuses to see their singlehood and creative labour as problematic and them as victims It departs from dominant thinking on precarity which foregrounds and critiques the contemporary need to be flexible mobile and spontaneous to the extent of self exploitation accepting insecurity The book seeks to understand empirically and specifically women s everyday struggles and pleasures It highlights the up close everyday embodied affective and subjective experience in a particular Chinese city with broader global resonances well beyond China Exploring the limits of the politics of precarity the book proposes an ethics of care

Negotiating Identities, Language and Migration in Global London Cangbai Wang, Terry Lamb, 2024-01-16 This book explores the transnational practices of migrant groups in global London illustrating the complex relations between migrants and the city in the context of globalisation The chapters offer a starting point to examine migrants and the city from a comparative perspective by bringing together case studies of diverse migrant communities They use languaging as the central concept in the development of an interdisciplinary framework that creates an opportunity to talk across disciplines to engage with key issues crisscrossing migration cities and language The book promotes language based or language sensitive research drawing on the plurilingual repertoires and the language and translanguaging practices of migrant communities as the tool for data collection and ethnographic fieldwork This approach generates fresh insights into the complex issues of diasporic identities belonging and place making which have broad implications for migration studies in post Brexit Britain and beyond

Understanding Cultural Geography Jon Anderson, 2021-04-07 This book outlines how the theoretical ideas empirical foci and methodological techniques of cultural geography make sense of the culture wars that define our time It is on the battleground of culture that our opportunities rights and futures are determined and Understanding Cultural Geography showcases how this discipline can be used to understand these battles and how we can engage in them Through doing so the book not only introduces the reader to the rich and complex history of cultural geography but also the key terms on which the discipline is built From these insights the text approaches place as an ongoing composition of traces highlighting the dynamic and ever changing nature of the world around us and what our role can be in transforming it for the better The third edition has been fully revised and updated to incorporate recent literature and reflect the changing cultural context of its time Retaining its exciting and innovative structure the third edition will expand its focus into new areas including updated chapters on ethnicity and race and new chapters on gender and the body This new edition captures not only recent changes in the cultural world but also the discipline itself offering the most up to date text to understand and engage with the cultural battlegrounds which constitute our lives Understanding Cultural Geography is the ideal text for students being introduced to the discipline through either undergraduate or postgraduate degree courses The third edition is an important update to a highly successful text that incorporates a vast foundation of knowledge it is an invaluable book for lecturers and students

"In Comes I" Mike Pearson, 2006 In Comes I explores performance and land biography and locality memory and place The book reflects on performances past and present taking the form of a series of excursions into the agricultural landscape of eastern England and drawing from archaeology geomorphology folklore and local and family history Mike Pearson a leading theatre artist and solo performer returns to the landscape of his childhood off the beaten track in Lincolnshire and uses it as a mnemonic to reflect widely upon performance theory and practice Rather than focusing on author period and genre as is conventional in the study of drama the book takes region as its optic acknowledging the affective ties between people and place Offering new approaches to the study of performance Pearson integrates intensely personal narrative with analytical reflection juxtaposing anecdote with theoretical insight dramatic text with interdisciplinary perception The performances ranging from folk drama to contemporary site specific work are seen in the light of their relationship to their cultural and physical environment Proceedings of the ... Conference New Zealand Geographical Society. Conference, New Zealand Geographical Society, 2003 Stories from the Landscape Adrian M. Chadwick, 2004 Man's impact on the landscape is obvious although as this book makes clear his relationship with the landscape is a complicated one and is both physical and emotional Environment & Planning, 2011 A Mobile Century? Colin G. Pooley, Jean Turnbull, Mags Adams, 2005 Although there is a large volume of literature on contemporary mobility and associated transport problems there are no comprehensive studies of the ways in which these trends have changed over time This book provides a detailed empirical analysis of mobility change in Britain over the twentieth century

The Issue of Masculine Identities for British Muslims After 9/11 Peter E. Hopkins, 2008 In the aftermath of the events of September 11 2001 followed by the bombings in London on July 7 2005 much attention has been drawn to the everyday experiences behaviors and attitudes of young Muslim men Drawing upon original research this work offers a series of innovative and critical insights into the ordinary lives of Muslim young men Overall the message is that although young Muslim men might engage with factors deemed to be national or global the experiences that matter most are local the marking on the body the placing of the home and the character of the street are all very significant sites for the futures of young Muslim men living in Scotland Youth and the City in the Global South Karen Tranberg Hansen, 2008 Innovative new research on globalization's impact on urban youth Key Thinkers on Space and Place Phil Hubbard, Rob Kitchin, Gill Valentine, 2004-05-25 A comprehensive guide to the latest work on space Each entry is a short interpretative essay outlining the contributions made by the key theorists American Book Publishing Record, 2001 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2001 Historical Geography, 2009
