People Places , 1976 Handbook of Environmental Psychology and Quality of Life Research Ghazlane

Fleury-Bahi, Enric Pol, Oscar Navarro, 2016-08-12 This Handbook presents a broad overview of the current research carried out in environmental psychology which puts into perspective quality of life and relationships with living spaces and shows how this original analytical framework can be used to understand different environmental and societal issues Adopting an original approach this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices

Place and Placelessness Revisited Robert Freestone, Edgar Liu, 2016-07-15 Since its publication in 1976 Ted Relph's Place and Placelessness has been an influential text in thinking about cities and city life across disciplines including human geography sociology architecture planning and urban design For four decades ideas put forward by this seminal work have continued to spark debates from the concept of placelessness itself through how it plays out in our societies to how city designers might respond to its challenge in practice Drawing on evidence from Australian British Japanese and North and South American urban settings Place and Placelessness Revisited is a collection of cutting edge empirical research and theoretical discussions of contemporary applications and interpretations of place and placelessness It takes a multi disciplinary approach including contributions from across the breadth of disciplines in the built environment architecture environmental psychology geography landscape architecture planning sociology and urban design in critically re visiting placelessness in theory and its relevance for twenty first century contexts

Landscape Architectural Research M. Elen Deming, Simon Swaffield, 2011-03-11 A practical single source guide to successful strategies for landscape architecture research As the scope of landscape architecture expands to engage with other disciplines and streams of information directing this field continue to grow and diversify it becomes increasingly important for landscape architects to be able to implement a range of effective research strategies when seeking creating and validating knowledge Landscape Architecture Research offers a framework for advancing better design thinking solutions by supplying readers with a system of inquiry tactics that open up a wider range of research possibilities With a logical and innovative approach that favors legitimacy of knowledge based on collective grounded practices rather than strict adherence to protocols drawn only from scientific models this comprehensive illustrated guide produces a sound argument for establishing a new paradigm for legitimizing research quality Landscape Architecture Research presents Case studies that show how the range of presented research strategies have been successfully used in practice New perspective on the relationship between theory research practice and critique a relationship that is specific to landscape architecture Detailed coverage of the ways that new knowledge is produced through research activities and practical innovations in landscape architecture The first and only book on this topic of growing importance in landscape architecture Landscape Architecture Research keeps professionals and students in step with the latest developments in landscape architecture and delivers a dynamic and flexible game plan for verifying the integrity of their work Space Meets Status Jacqueline Vischer,2007-05-07 Showing how worker productivity and stress levels are affected by factors such as lighting ventilation temperature noise and layout this book demonstrates how the technical aspects of human comfort do not always tally with users perceptions and behaviour With vivid examples and case studies to illustrate how space is a corporate resource rather than simply overhead Vischer reveals how companies can improve their ability to make design decisions on how best to accommodate their employees in a high quality workspace Landscape Architectural Graphic Standards Leonard J.
