de droit européen Academy of European Law Staff, 2013-06-29 Your invitation to me as the President of the European Court of Human Rights to conclude this year's study programme on the protection of human rights in Europe by delivering the prestigious Winston Churchill lecture is a great honour not only for me personally but for the European Court of Human Rights as a whole and I should like to thank the European University Institute and its Academy of European Law most warmly for giving me this opportunity. You are fortunate to have had the opportunity of following a week-long general course on the protection of human rights in Europe given by my colleague and friend Carl Aage Nørgaard, the President of the European Commission of Human Rights. To speak after him in order to bring to a close your study programme makes my task in some respects easier because I can take it for granted that you now have a clear and comprehensive understanding of the guarantees and the functioning of the European Convention on Human Rights. On the other hand, it is I must confess not without a certain apprehension that I take the floor at this juncture because I am very well aware of how difficult it is to keep the attention of an audience which has had the privilege of hearing Carl Aage Nørgaard on more or less the same subject.
