Standing on the Edge of Your Tomorrow Take Charge and Win! Robert Lee, 2010-05 Any fool can count the seeds in an apple only God can count the apples from one seed Dr Robert H Schuller Knowing others is intelligence knowing yourself is true wisdom Mastering others is strength mastering yourself is true power Lao Tzu Chinese philosopher reformer 500 BC Change your core belief change your life Who's #1? Amy N. Langville, Carl D. Meyer, 2012-02-26 The mathematics behind today's most widely used rating and ranking methods A website's ranking on Google can spell the difference between success and failure for a new business NCAA football ratings determine which schools get to play for the big money in postseason bowl games Product ratings influence everything from the clothes we wear to the movies we select on Netflix Ratings and rankings are everywhere but how exactly do they work Who's 1 offers an engaging and accessible account of how scientific rating and ranking methods are created and applied to a variety of uses Amy Langville and Carl Meyer provide the first comprehensive overview of the mathematical algorithms and methods used to rate and rank sports teams political candidates products Web pages and more In a series of interesting asides Langville and Meyer provide fascinating insights into the ingenious contributions of many of the field's pioneers They survey and compare the different methods employed today showing why their strengths and weaknesses depend on the underlying goal and explaining why and when a given method should be considered Langville and Meyer also describe what can and can't be expected from the most widely used systems The science of rating and ranking touches virtually every facet of our lives and now you don't need to be an expert to understand how it really works Who's 1 is the definitive introduction to the subject It features easy to understand examples and interesting trivia and historical facts and much of the required mathematics is included Rostrum, 1957 Oral Communication Larry A. Samovar, Jack Mills, 1992 Media Journal Joseph D. Harris, Jay Rosen, Gary Calpas, 1999 In this book we ask students to do three things 1 To keep a media journal in which they reflect on the uses they make of the voices and images of popular culture 2 to read and respond to the work of other media critics to test their own views and experiences against those of the writers included in these pages and 3 to try their hands at writing media criticism themselves All three kinds of work ask students to find and write about texts from the media culture around them to think critically about what they see and hear on their television sets and radios in magazines and newspapers on city streets and shopping malls at the movies and at concerts and clubs To put it another way we believe that a book such as this can provide only some of the materials for a course on writing about popular culture that the remaining materials must always come from the media themselves and the experiences students have with them Our aim is not to inculcate students with a certain set of critical methods or terms or to introduce them to the academic study of popular culture but to offer them opportunities to rethink and write about their own experiences with the media to come to their own understandings of our common culture Sports Illustrated, 1963 Internet Annalisa Milner, 2000 A step by step guide to browsing the World Wide Web using
