The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures Daniel Nehring,Ole Jacob Madsen,Edgar Cabanas,China Mills,Dylan Kerrigan,2020-08-24 The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures explores central lines of enquiry and seminal scholarship on therapeutic cultures popular psychology and the happiness industry Bringing together studies of therapeutic cultures from sociology anthropology psychology education politics law history social work cultural studies development studies and American Indian studies it adopts a consciously global focus combining studies of the

psychologisation of social life from across the world Thematically organised it offers historical accounts of the growing prominence of therapeutic discourses and practices in everyday life before moving to consider the construction of self identity in the context of the diffusion of therapeutic discourses in connection with the global spread of capitalism With attention to the ways in which emotional language has brought new problematisations of the dichotomy between the normal and the pathological as well as significant transformations of key institutions such as work family education and religion it examines emergent trends in therapeutic culture and explores the manner in which the advent of new therapeutic technologies the political interest in happiness and the radical privatisation and financialisation of social life converge to remake self identities and modes of everyday experience Finally the volume features the work of scholars who have foregrounded the historical and contemporary implication of psychotherapeutic practices in processes of globalisation and colonial and postcolonial modes of social organisation Presenting agenda setting research to encourage interdisciplinary and international dialogue and foster the development of a distinctive new field of social research The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in the advance of therapeutic discourses and practices in an increasingly psychologised society Spain Frank Arencibia, The Milk Lady of Bangalore Shoba Narayan, 2025-05-01 The elevator door opens A cow stands inside angled diagonally to fit It doesn't look uncomfortable merely impatient It is for the housewarming ceremony on the third floor explains the woman who stands behind the cow holding it loosely with a rope She has the sheepish look of a person caught in a strange situation who is trying to act as normal as possible She introduces herself as Sarala and smiles reassuringly The door closes I shake my head and suppress a grin It is good to be back When Shoba Narayan who has just returned to India with her husband and two daughters after years in the United States asks whether said cow might bless her apartment next it is the beginning of a beautiful friendship between our author and Sarala who also sells fresh milk right across the street from that thoroughly modern apartment building The two women connect over not only cows but also family food and life When Shoba agrees to buy Sarala a new cow they set off looking for just the right heifer and what was at first a simple economic transaction becomes something much deeper though never without a hint of slapstick The Milk Lady of Bangalore immerses us in the culture customs myths religion sights and sounds of a city in which the twenty first century and the ancient past coexist like nowhere else in the world It's a true story of bridging divides of understanding other ways of looking at the world and of human connections and animal connections and it's an irresistible adventure of two strong women and the animals they love
