Practical advice is accompanied by step-by-step instructions for yoga sequences, ensuring that you can put the knowledge into practice right away. It is important to acknowledge that yoga is not a one-size-fits-all solution. Every woman is unique, with her own set of strengths, limitations, and health concerns. Therefore, this book encourages you to listen to your body and modify practices as needed. The emphasis is on creating a sustainable and enjoyable yoga routine that enhances your overall well-being rather than striving for perfection in poses. As you embark on this journey through Yoga for Women, I invite you to approach it with an open heart and mind. Yoga is a deeply personal practice, and its benefits are most profound when it is integrated into your daily life. Whether you are seeking to improve your physical health, achieve hormonal balance, or find inner peace, this book is here to support you every step of the way. surrounding the mind and body often go unnoticed during research and are only partially reported in the conclusions. Experiencing the Body in Yoga Practice: Meanings and Knowledge Transfer examines this gap. It presents the application of a contemplative way of thinking and proceeding in qualitative social research and a first person perspective focusing on experiencing lived body and knowledge transfer in hatha yoga. It analyzes how the mind focuses and stops working, proceeds in the finite province of the meaning of yoga, how the body produces emotions and deals with them during yoga sessions, and how the knowledge is transferred by using the body in some linguistic and cultural context. The book will be of interest to sociologists and social scientists who want to concentrate on and analyze the experiences of the body from contemplative and phenomenological perspectives. It is also key reading for all practitioners dealing with body and bodywork such as in sports, recreational activities, physical education, rehabilitation, physical work, educational activities, etc. Yoga Journal, 1994-09.
