

The image features three violinists in silhouette, playing their instruments against a solid red background. The central figure is a man, flanked by two women. They are all captured in a dynamic pose, with their bows raised and moving. The Apple logo, a white silhouette of an apple with a bite taken out, is positioned to the left of the text. The text 'Music Classical' is in a large, white, sans-serif font, centered horizontally and partially overlapping the musicians.

Remuneration of Copyright Owners Kung-Chung Liu, Reto M. Hilty, 2017-05-04 This book evaluates existing and explores new mechanisms for the adequate payment of copyright owners for the use of their works The underlying assumption is that adequate rewards to creators and subsequent right holders will continue to be a goal of copyright law particularly to incentivize further creation and investment In the search for viable methods it first focuses on the reduction of transaction costs and the role of new technologies It also discusses the further development and broader application of new mechanisms that might be necessary to enhance the adequacy and efficiency of payment systems since the more onerous payment systems are the more irrelevant copyright risks become due to lack of acceptance and the less likely both are to fulfill their functions Digital Music Licensing and Section 115 of the Copyright Act United States. All You Need to Know About the Music Business Donald S. Passman, 2015-11-10 All You Need to Know About the Music Business by veteran music lawyer Don Passman dubbed the industry bible by the Los Angeles Times is now updated to address the biggest transformation of the music industry yet streaming For more than twenty five years All You Need to Know About the Music Business has been universally regarded as the definitive guide to the music industry Now in its tenth edition Donald Passman leads novices and experts alike through what has been the most profound change in the music business since the days of wax cylinders and piano rolls For the first time in history music is no longer monetized by selling something it s monetized by how many times listeners stream a song And that completely changes the ecosystem of the business as Passman explains in detail Since the advent of file sharing technology in the late 1990s to the creation of the iPod the music industry has been teetering on the brink of a major transformation and with the newest switch to streaming music this change has finally come to pass Passman s comprehensive guide offers timely authoritative information from how to select and hire a winning team of advisors and structure their commissions and fees navigate the ins and outs of record deals songwriting publishing and copyrights maximize concert touring and merchandising deals and how the game is played in a streaming world If you want to be in music you have to read this book says Adam Levine lead singer and guitarist of Maroon 5 With its proven track record this updated edition of All You Need to Know About the Music Business is more essential than ever for musicians songwriters lawyers agents promoters publishers executives and managers anyone trying to navigate the rapid transformation of the industry

Collective Management of Music Copyright Qingqing Xu, 2023-04-17 Two of the objectives of the Chinese Copyright Law are to protect the copyright of authors to their literary and artistic works and encourage the creation and dissemination of works In practice however in spite of the existence of the Music Copyright Society of China MCSC that was established to assist with exercising copyright music creators in China remain in need of help to protect and manage their fragmented copyright The MCSC was the first collective management organisation CMO in mainland China and is the only CMO in the field of musical works While there is a large music industry and copyright business in China the MCSC only had 11 356 members at the end of 2021 The third amendment of the Chinese Copyright Law was initiated in 2011 and came into effect in June 2021 after a long debate for almost ten years The discussion of the third amendment has highlighted the controversial topic of collective management of copyright This book explores the adequacy of the MCSC as an intermediary representing rights for music creators The main argument developed in this study is that the work of the MCSC for individual composers and lyricists is hampered by shortcomings in the regulatory regime as well as by a lack of members rights to participate in the management of their own rights and by the ineffective international cooperation between the MCSC and other musical CMOs overseas The analysis is undertaken through a case study approach comparing the collective management systems of music copyright in China the United States and Australia and addressing the question of how musical CMOs operate in these countries Specifically three perspectives are examined the regulatory systems designed to limit the misuse of those CMOs monopoly members rights in the organisations and international cooperation between these CMOs Overall the main findings of this book suggest that the MCSC in China could work more effectively to protect music creators interests In contrast although the operational frameworks of the American Society of Composers Authors and Publishers ASCAP and the Broadcasting Broadcast Music Inc BMI in the United States and the Australasian Performing Right Association APRA in Australia are not perfect models the systems in these two countries may at least provide reference points for potential improvement of the regime of the MCSC The research recommends three courses of action strengthening the regulatory design overseeing the MCSC s monopoly clarifying the relationship between the MCSC and its members while providing the members with the right to manage their own copyright and improving the international cooperation between the MCSC and CMOs in other countries

DVS Mindz Geoff Harkness, 2023-04-18 99 9% of aspiring rappers never make it in the music industry So why do we only hear the stories of the ones who do DVS Mindz might be the greatest rap group you've never heard of Formed in Topeka Kansas in the mid 1990s they developed a reputation for ferocious rhyming and frenetic live performances In their heyday DVS Mindz released a critically acclaimed CD received nominations for prestigious awards and opened for legends such as Wu Tang Clan Run DMC and De La Soul as well as KC icon Tech N9ne But the group struggled with creative differences substance abuse ego battles and money issues and they split up in 2003 Geoff Harkness takes readers on a unique two decade journey alongside the members of DVS Mindz chronicling their childhoods their brush with success and what became of them in the years that followed Based on more than one hundred hours of video and audio recordings from 1999 to 2022 this fly on the wall account offers a backstage pass into the recording studios and radio stations video shoots and house parties nightclubs and concert halls of the Kansas City Lawrence Topeka music scene circa 2000 DVS Mindz is at once a compulsively readable group biography of four talented MCs a vibrant voyage through the forgotten history of local hip hop and a breathtakingly real story of struggling to achieve big dreams

The Ideology of Competition in School Music

Sean Robert Powell, 2023 The Ideology of Competition in School Music explores competition as a structuring force in school music and provides critiques of that system from multiple philosophical and theoretical perspectives Competition is seen by many music teachers students and supporters as natural and inevitable a taken for granted aspect of music education or an irresistible force rather than a choice This book uncovers this ideological nature of competition and examines its effect on student learning teacher agency and equity within music education It considers ways in which music educators might reconsider the role of competition in their teaching practice and offers alternative frameworks for organizing school music In this book author Sean Robert Powell views competition as a microcosm of the wider neoliberal capitalist society in which subjects are interpellated in an antagonistic competitive field as market logic dictates a system of accountability reduction and audit culture Music teachers students and education administrators consciously and unconsciously reinforce replicate and sustain the competitive structure even if they do so while expressing a cynical disavowal Powell considers competition broadly including for example formal competitions between schools in which ensembles are given numerical scores and ranked festivals in which groups are given ratings based on pre given criteria state regional and national honor ensembles hierarchical arrangements within school music programs or simply the pursuit of social prestige reputation and ever higher performance standards Although the book provides examples from the competitive landscape of school music in the United States and especially Texas considered a hyper example of competitive culture Powell s analyses and discussions are relevant to readers in any context around the world Although the degree to which competitive achievement as an explicitly stated aim of instruction varies from program to program and location to location the realism of neoliberal capitalism and its effect on all aspects of education is a global phenomenon

Musicking TikTok Juan Bermúdez, 2024-12-12 This ethnographic work about TikTok s musicking in a glocal Austrian context complements and build upon ethnomusicological assumptions theories and methods for the study of musical practices in digital spaces An overview of elements that make up TikTok s interface as well as the technical performative possibilities that it allows this book introduces a general categorization of existing performance types and how TikTokers appropriate the platform to make their music It illustrates how some TikTokers became aware of and began using TikTok and it reviews some of the different strategies TikTokers apply to learn how to use the application and successfully develop their performances Berm dez explores how performers move from being ordinary users to becoming TikTokers developing and performing an identity he calls TikTok Persona Moreover he discusses how some TikTok practices can and have occurred across multiple interconnected platforms and he examines how localities are articulated and negotiated in these contexts Berm dez argues for an understanding of musicking as a multimedia practice that different actors create and experience individually in everyday synchronous and asynchronous physical and digital situations The so called TikTokers create a sense of identity and community through their performances This study suggests that a digital performance can be aside from a representation of reality an integral part of it serving as a fundamental space for constructing and performing identity
