Ai Tools Weight Loss Plan Latest:

Artificial Intelligence in Radiation Oncology and Biomedical Physics Gilmer Valdes, Lei Xing, 2023-08-14 This pioneering book explores how machine learning and other AI techniques impact millions of cancer patients who benefit from ionizing radiation. It features contributions from global researchers and clinicians focusing on the clinical applications of machine learning for medical physics. AI and machine learning have attracted much recent attention and are being increasingly adopted in medicine with many clinical components and commercial software including aspects of machine learning integration. General principles and important techniques in machine learning are introduced followed by discussion of clinical applications particularly in radiomics, outcome prediction, registration and segmentation, treatment planning, quality assurance, image processing and clinical decision making. Finally, a futuristic look at the role of AI in radiation oncology is provided. This book brings medical physicists and radiation oncologists up to date with the most novel applications of machine learning to medical physics. Practitioners will appreciate the insightful discussions and detailed descriptions in each chapter. Its emphasis on clinical applications reaches a wide audience within the medical physics profession. How artificial intelligence will change healthcare forever, for better Dirk Pickuth, 2024-01-26 How artificial intelligence will change healthcare forever for better provides a comprehensive and exciting panorama of AI's groundbreaking impact across the entire spectrum of medicine and healthcare. Advances in Cancer Detection, Prediction, and Prognosis Using Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Rajeev Nema, Oxford Textbook of Shared Decision Making in Healthcare, 2025-08-21 Healthcare systems around the world are placing increasing importance on the relationship between patient choice and clinical decision making with many countries having shared decision making as a central theme in their healthcare policy developments. The concept of shared decision making (SDM) in healthcare is simple: clinicians and patients work together when solving problems and making decisions. However, the context and implementation are more challenging. Written by a global team of experts, the Oxford Textbook of Shared Decision Making fourth edition examines from both theoretical and practical perspectives what comprises an effective decision making process, looking at the benefits and potential difficulties that arise when patients and clinicians share healthcare decisions. The first sections cover the theory, methods and implementation of SDM. Later sections examine SDM from the viewpoints of different clinical and surgical specialities and allied disciplines such as nursing, pharmacy and midwifery. Each chapter contains reflections from a patient partner with lived experience of SDM, giving a truly diverse and collaborative account of how SDM can work between patients, families, carers and healthcare professionals. Authoritative evidence-based and grounded in clinical practice, the Oxford Textbook of Shared Decision Making explores a very important paradigm shift in the delivery of healthcare, providing thoughtful consideration and key strategies for its successful implementation. The Business Year: Qatar 2025, As Qatar embarks on the final stretch of its National Vision 2030, The Business Year Qatar 2025 over 215 pages offers

Cultural Sensitivity and Responsiveness in Neurorehabilitation Gloria Jean L. Wallace, 2024-12-02

Cultural Sensitivity and Responsiveness in Neurorehabilitation: A Personalized Approach for Speech-Language Pathologists is a groundbreaking and transformative resource for designing quality and equitable neurorehabilitation care for individuals from diverse communities. Material coverage is comprehensive, and chapters are user-friendly for speech-language pathologists, SLPs, and SLP students alike. Case presentations are provided to demonstrate best practices. As our world becomes increasingly more diverse, it is imperative for SLPs to be knowledgeable about and experienced with foundational information relating to diversity, equity, inclusion, implicit bias, intersectionality, and SLP best practices for cases from culturally and linguistically diverse communities. The text culminates with an insightful epilogue featuring people from diverse communities from around the world who have neurogenic communication, cognitive, and swallowing disorders and who share information about what they would like neurorehabilitation specialists to know. The book is organized into seven sections. Part I, Introduction to Personalized Care, sets the stage by introducing the concept of multicultural neurogenetics and personalized care. Chapters delve into topics like implicit bias, interprofessional collaboration, and the tools clinicians need for effective case management when working with diverse populations. Part II, Building a Foundation for Neurorehabilitation in a Multicultural World, Personalization Personified, provides practical guidance for SLPs. It covers the preparation for case contact, working with interpreters and translators, and the assessment and management of speech-language, cognitive, and swallowing issues in culturally and linguistically diverse populations. Part III, Specialty Neurogenetics, Chapters offers in-depth knowledge on various neurogenic conditions such as aphasia, traumatic brain injury, right hemisphere brain damage, the dementias, dysarthrias, and dysphagia within a cultural context. Part IV, A Sampling of Information About U.S. Census Bureau Racial/Ethnic Groups, delves into the unique cultural and communication factors related to various racial and ethnic groups in the United States, including Blacks, Hispanics, Chinese and Asian Americans, American Indians and Alaska Natives, and White Americans. Part V, Intersectionality, examines the intersection of factors that create unique challenges in care, including ethical perspectives for serving LGBTQIA individuals, trauma-informed care for marginalized populations, and the cultural aspects of care for the Deaf community. Part VI, Contributions from Educators and a Look at Neurorehabilitation Care Trends within the U.S., provides insights from academics on diversity, equity, and inclusion in education, designing courses that promote DEI and current trends in SLP neurorehabilitation Part VII presents real world cases with accompanying videos illustrating best practices in SLP neurorehabilitation care for diverse communities These cases cover a wide range of scenarios from collaboration between medical SLPs and interpreters to culturally adapted therapy for older adults and complex management considerations for stroke survivors from the Deaf community This section ends with a chapter by visionaries from Asia Africa Europe Oceania South America and North America sharing their insights on bridging the international diversity sensitivity and responsiveness gap emphasizing the importance of cultural competence in a global context Key Features Comprised of 40 chapters by 80 renowned authors and over 100 total contributors from diverse communities including experienced SLP clinicians academicians and researchers diversity equity and inclusion DEI specialists and professionals from the areas of audiology medicine psychology and education Includes real world case studies including accompanying videos to illustrate best practices in SLP neurorehabilitation care for people from diverse communities Discusses diversity matters for people with major neurologically based communication cognitive and swallowing disorders and by race ethnicity and culture with attention to intersectionality Features content designed specifically for this book including considerations for individuals with neurogenic disorders who are from the Deaf community trauma informed care for the unsheltered and people who have experienced interpartner violence as well as intersectionality issues Incorporates perspectives about the value of non traditional approaches to supplement SLP treatment health literacy and public health partnerships Provides information by international SLPs about DEI issues that matter most in their respective countries and features thoughts about future neurorehabilitation directions Includes interviews with people who have neurogenic communication cognitive and swallowing disorders from culturally and linguistically diverse communities in the United States and abroad providing insights into what matters most and how to best achieve personalization of neurorehabilitation care from their perspective Essentials of Nutrition and Diet Therapy Sue Rodwell Williams,Eleanor D.
