Administrative Assistant

Dear Hiring Manager,

I've recommended your games more times than I can count, so when I saw your executive assistant opening, I knew I had to apply.

I'm an administrative assistant with 6 years of experience working in mostly tech and biotech companies. I've supported teams across HR, Sales, and even worked directly with the CEO.

When I looked at the job description, the part that stood out to me the most was the need to work with sensitive documents. I've done that at Biomed, where I handled both employee data and confidential lab data. There I learned how to be more disciplined with access control and file organization.

Understanding Google Workspace has also played a big part, especially at TechHorse, where I supported the IT department in managing employee email accounts. I helped manage employee email accounts and stayed on top of help tickets related to logins and access. It really taught me how to stay organized even when juggling multiple priorities.

Lately, I've been exploring opportunities in the gaming space, and 8Bit Co. seems like a great place to apply these skills while continuing to grow.

If this sounds like the kind of experience your team is looking for, I'd love to schedule a time to connect and explore how I can contribute.

Thank you,

Todd Chavez
