Smartphone Addiction, Phone Snubbing, and Effects on Interpersonal Relationships and Mental Health Chandan, Harish Chandra,2025-04-09 In today's digitally connected world smartphone addiction has become a pervasive issue impacting interpersonal relationships and mental health. As people become dependent on their devices the constant stream of notifications and social media interactions often leads to phone snubbing an act where individuals prioritize their phones over face to face communication with those around them. This behavior diminishes the quality of relationships while contributing to feelings of isolation anxiety and depression. The constant need for digital validation and the fear of missing out FOMO have created a cycle of dependence that interferes with meaningful human connections and personal well being. As smartphone use continues to dominate daily life understanding the psychological effects of these behaviors and finding ways to balance digital communication with authentic in person interactions is crucial. Smartphone Addiction Phone Snubbing and Effects on Interpersonal Relationships and Mental Health explores the psychosocial factors that lead to problematic use of technology. It examines the potential risk factors for pathological smartphone use connections between social media addiction FOMO personality traits and phubbing behaviors and effects on interpersonal relationships and mental health. This book covers topics such as digital communication phone addiction and social media and is a useful resource for computer engineers sociologists psychologists data scientists academicians and researchers.

Children and Disasters Norma Gordon,Norman L. Farberow,Carl A. Maida,2013-06-17 When disaster strikes survivors suddenly find themselves in a world that has become confusing and unfamiliar. Such traumatic events impose severe psychological strain on every member of a community but children are a particularly vulnerable group requiring special attention. Children and Disasters addresses the needs of this specific population by examining the impact of major disasters on the mental health and emotional functioning of children. The programs described in this book are designed to provide early intervention to children and families undergoing stress reactions to a catastrophic event. The authors offer interventions aimed at enhancing the skills of mental health professionals educators and peer counselors in responding to the intensified demands of disasters. These intervention approaches provide information regarding the event itself reinforce the legitimacy of the anxieties and fears that children and their families are experiencing and encourage the expression of feelings in group and individual settings for the younger child through drawing and play. Furthermore they build on the coping capacity of individuals and their families and provide concrete coping skills and techniques to alleviate stress reactions. The intervention model can be applied to programs for individual children and their families multi family groups and groups for children in mental health educational and community settings. The practical hands on approach to program design makes this book an attractive resource for mental health professionals social workers rehabilitation specialists professional and volunteer counselors and suicide intervention workers. It will also be useful for
