tested given that the fairness of a test is so intertwined with its validity Fairness Issues in Educational Assessment aims to shed more light on the issue and bring to sight some of the ways in which test fairness can be addressed The contributions written by some of the most prominent figures in educational assessment address both theoretical and practical aspects of test fairness The wealth of ideas presented here will be valuable to novice researchers and help them appreciate both the joy and complexity of conducting fair educational measurement This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Research and Evaluation

Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Assessment of Problem Solving Using Simulations Eva Baker, Jan Dickieson, Wallace Wulfeck, Harold F. O'Neil, 2017-09-25 This volume explores the application of computer simulation technology to measurement issues in education especially as it pertains to problem based learning Whereas most assessments related to problem solving are based on expensive and time consuming measures i.e. think aloud protocols or performance assessments that require extensive human rater scoring this book relies on computerization of the major portion of the administration scoring and reporting of problem solving assessments It is appropriate for researchers instructors and graduate students in educational assessment educational technology and educational psychology

Artificial Intelligence in Education R. Luckin, K.R. Koedinger, J. Greer, 2007-06-29 The nature of technology has changed since Artificial Intelligence in Education AIED was conceptualised as a research community and Interactive Learning Environments were initially developed Technology is smaller more mobile networked pervasive and often ubiquitous as well as being provided by the standard desktop PC This creates the potential for technology supported learning wherever and whenever learners need and want it However in order to take advantage of this potential for greater flexibility we need to understand and model learners and the contexts with which they interact in a manner that enables us to design deploy and evaluate technology to most effectively support learning across multiple locations subjects and times The AIED community has much to contribute to this endeavour This publication contains papers posters and tutorials from the 2007 Artificial Intelligence in Education conference in Los Angeles CA USA
