Reading Words into Worlds J. Clayton McReynolds,2024-07-19 Reading Words into Worlds asks how it is that reading a novel can feel in some ways like being in a world The book explores how novels give themselves to readers in ways that mimetically resemble our phenomenological reception of given beings in reality McReynolds refers to this process as phenomenological mimesis of givenness and he draws on the phenomenological philosophy of Husserl Heidegger and Jean Luc Marion to explore how masterful novels can make reading ink marks on a page feel like seeing things feeling things and meeting even loving others McReynolds blends rigorous phenomenological study with a personable style first laying out his theory in detail and then applying that theory through close studies of his reading experiences of four British realist masterpieces Defoe s Robinson Crusoe Austen s Northanger Abbey Eliot s Middlemarch and Hardy s Jude the Obscure Ultimately this book offers a grounded phenomenology of novel reading illuminating what gives novels such power to not only thrill readers but to change them

Crash Course in Family Literacy

Programs Rosemary Chance, Laura Sheneman, 2012-03-08. This book collects the research on literacy information regarding the importance of reading to children, sources of funding and places to find information about literacy programs in the 50 states, all in a single volume. Family literacy programs can be remarkably effective in helping families who struggle in various areas of literacy or supporting their children's academic needs. Crash Course in Family Literacy Programs provides an introduction and an overview of this critical subject, defining what literacy, family literacy and family literacy events are and covering critical topics such as sources of funding, conclusions of recent research and bilingual family literacy. The first half of the book is focused on laying out background information about family literacy, while the remainder provides practical how-to information for public and school libraries to develop their own family literacy programming. The book shows perspectives of public librarians, school principals, children's bookstore owners and school personnel who have successfully implemented a family literacy program. Planning sheets and lesson templates are included, making it easy to develop a family literacy program.
