

A romantic fantasy illustration of a young man and woman sitting on a large, ornate blue velvet sofa in a vast library. The woman, with long brown hair and a white headband, wears a white long-sleeved top and a long blue skirt, holding an open green book. The man, with dark hair, wears a brown leather jacket over a blue shirt and dark trousers, holding a quill and a book. They are both looking at their books with affection. The library is filled with floor-to-ceiling bookshelves packed with books. On the floor around the sofa are several open and closed books. To the left, a ghostly, ethereal figure of a woman in a white dress floats amidst swirling purple and pink smoke. The background features a large, dark, gothic-style archway. The overall atmosphere is magical and romantic, with soft lighting and a color palette dominated by purples, blues, and browns.

EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK You've probably figured out a few mistakes to avoid already but you'd probably be surprised at what many employers are turned off by when reading cover letters Lack of proofreading This is a no brainer but many people often miss them or don't bother to spell check before sending out the cover letter and resume It's always a good idea to ask a friend or family member to check your letter for spelling errors and typos to give you a fresh perspective Not including the name of the hiring manager If you don't know who is going to read your cover letter and resume try to find out When in doubt call the company and ask who the person in charge of that department is so you can target your letter appropriately Not writing to an audience Focus each letter on each employer According to Career Builder 44 percent of executives polled said it's common for applicants to use their cover letters to show they've learned more about the job Doing so can give you an edge against the competition Failing to sell yourself If you undersell your skills and qualifications you won't make an impression on the reader Don't just talk about your accomplishments give concrete examples Regurgitating the resume Cover letters weren't meant as a tool to repeat everything that's in your resume It's a tool to build on it and an opportunity to correlate your experience with the job you're applying for Include any training classes awards and recognition you've received in the past that might give you an edge over the competition Buy a copy to keep reading
