writers and artists described in this book are joined by a desire to embrace Eastern aesthetics as a means of redeeming Western technoculture. The assumption they all share is that at the core of modern Western culture there lies an originary and all encompassing philosophical error and that Asian art offers a way out of that awful matrix. That desire this book attempts to demonstrate has informed Anglo and even Asian American debates about technology and art since the late nineteenth century and continues to skew our responses to our own technocultural environment. The Greenland

Dilemma Martin Breum, 2015-05-20 This book is about Greenland's rapidly changing role in the world and about its complex connections to Denmark its former colonizer. It is about Greenland's possible secession from the Kingdom of Denmark oil uranium and the difficulties that Greenlanders and Danes often have when they try to talk about their common past and Greenland's place in the new global future. The first part of this book builds on my travels and encounters with Greenland's politicians fishermen schoolteachers and intellectuals including my old classmate from Maniitsoq who became a very wise vicar in her hometown and now appears in chapter 3. Through all these conversations I learned just how dramatic the present wave of changes in Greenland are. Never before did I understand just how complex the desire for increased independence is or how dramatic the clashes between old and new are or how volcanic the debate over which path to choose for the future can be. An insight into these local discussions is surely a prerequisite if one wants to understand the broader discussion about Greenland's future relations to Denmark and its changing role in the world. The second part deals with hard core politics about mining and oil and about the rest of the world's including China's interest in Greenland's oil gas uranium rare earths gold and other riches. This part of the book grapples with the political infights in Greenland and with the power struggles between Denmark and Greenland over resources foreign policy and identity. Legally for half a century Greenland has been part of the Kingdom of Denmark but also increasingly a very self conscious one of the sort. My observations flow from my work as a journalist in Greenland and Denmark over the past years where I worked for the Danish Broadcasting Corporation and other media outlets. I am Danish. I lived only two years in Greenland as a teenager but I have come there often in later years. My errand is not to forward any opinion on Greenland's position as a part of the Danish realm nor do I pass judgment on the popular vision of future secession. If anything I hope to throw light on the complexities involved and to encourage more people to take part in this important debate by providing detail real human beings facts and observations from places that would for most people outside Greenland be somewhat cumbersome to reach. EASYUNI Ultimate University Guide 2014

EasyUni Sdn Bhd, 2014-07-02 Hi there It's nice to present you once again with another hot issue of easyuni. On 11 June this year we launched the unifrens social platform an extension to easyuni's existing vision of providing comprehensive and accurate information to students about colleges and universities. This is another milestone in the history of easyuni as one of Asia's most popular education portals committed to helping students with their higher education plans. unifrens is a social platform which allows students searching for universities and colleges with similar interests to connect with each other to help them make unbiased and community driven decisions about their higher education It also allows them to connect with students who are currently enrolled at universities who can tell them about their experiences about a particular city country university or a course unfrens is something we had been planning for a while to complement our current family of tools for students We always knew that our users would love it as they want more community driven information instead of promotional content from universities and study abroad consultants I believe this feature will democratise the way information about speci c courses countries or institutions is presented and this can only mean good news for students and their parents visitors as it helps them make more informed decisions about which course institution or country to pick Students can also pose questions to their groups which will be answered by experts and the community The feature is still in its beta stage but has gained massive traction with over 100 000 users already registered and assigned to groups Exciting isn t it The issue you re holding now has so much to offer as well So read every page and ll yourself with all the knowledge needed to make informed decisions about your higher education
