Moscow 1941 Hitlers First Defeat Campaign:

Moscow 1941 Robert Forczyk, 2006-04-25 In late September 1941 the war in the east was approaching a climax Since the beginning of the German invasion on 22 June 1941 Soviet forces had suffered the staggering loss of over 2 million troops Operation Typhoon began and in the first week of the offensive the three German panzer armies surrounded virtually the bulk of the Soviet forces barring the way to Moscow This title details the dramatic battle that took place right up to the suburbs of Moscow itself and the defeat which altered Hitler s strategic management of World War II 1939 1945 SOVIET

ARMOURED FORCE , Kursk 1943 Robert Forczyk, 2014-09-20 The Kursk campaign was the major German offensive of 1943 and the last strategic offensive the Germans were to launch on the Eastern Front in World War II In the summer of 1943 recoiling from defeat at Stalingrad Hitler conducted a limited objective offensive to eliminate the Soviet Kursk salient Operating a classic pincer attack of the kind that succeeded during the 1942 Kharkov campaign he hoped that the resulting heavy losses inflicted on the Red Army would give the Wehrmacht time to recover its strength However the Soviet anticipation of the attack led to extensive losses on both sides as Soviet anti tank mines and fierce fighting pushed the Germans back liberating the German held Orel in the process Focusing on the northern front of the battle with Generaloberst Walter Model s forces pitted against General Rokossovsky s Central Front between 5 July and 18 August this volume will explore both the German offensive and the Soviet counteroffensive Using documents from both sides extensive photographs both contemporary and modern maps and bird s eye views this title will shed new light on this often ignored part of the battle

Meat Grinder Prit Buttar, 2022-10-13 An engrossing history of the desperate battles for the Rzhev Salient a forgotten story brought to life by the harrowing memoirs of German and Russian soldiers The fighting between the German and Russian armies in the Rzhev Salient during World War II was so grisly so murderous and saw such vast losses that the troops called the campaign The Meat Grinder Though millions of men would fight and die there the Rzhev Salient does not have the name recognition of Leningrad or Moscow It has been largely ignored by Western historians until now In this book Prit Buttar a leading expert on the Eastern Front reveals the depth and depravity of the bitter fighting He details how the region held the promise of a renewed drive on Moscow for the German Army a chance to turn the tide of war Using German and Russian first hand accounts Buttar examines the major offensives launched by the Red Army against the salient all of which were defeated with losses exceeding two million killed wounded or missing until eventually the Germans were forced to evacuate the salient in March 1943 Drawing on the latest research Meat Grinder provides a study of these horrific battles but also examines how the Red Army did learn from its colossal failures and how its timely analysis of these failures helped pave the way for the eventual Soviet victory against Army Group Centre in the summer of 1944 leaving the road to Berlin clear
