Mortal Questions Thomas Nagel, 2012-03-26 Thomas Nagel's Mortal Questions explores some fundamental issues concerning the meaning, nature, and value of human life. Questions about our attitudes to death, sexual behaviour, social inequality, war, and political power are shown to lead to more obviously philosophical problems about personal identity, consciousness, freedom, and value. This original and illuminating book aims at a form of understanding that is both theoretical and personal in its lively engagement with what are literally issues of life and death.

Mortal Questions Thomas Nagel, 1979

The Nonhuman Turn Richard Grusin, 2015-03-09 Edited by Richard Grusin of the Center for 21st Century Studies, this is the first book to name and characterize and therefore consolidate a wide array of current critical theoretical and philosophical approaches to the humanities and social sciences under the concept of the nonhuman turn. Each of these approaches is engaged in decentering the human in favor of a concern for the nonhuman understood by contributors in a variety of ways in terms of animals, affectivity, bodies, materiality, technologies, and organic and geophysical systems. The nonhuman turn in twenty-first century studies can be traced to multiple intellectual and theoretical developments from the last decades of the twentieth century: actor-network theory, affect theory, animal studies, assemblage theory, cognitive sciences, new materialism, new media theory, speculative realism, and systems theory. Such varied analytical and theoretical formations obviously diverge and disagree in many of their assumptions, objects, and methodologies. However, they all take up aspects of the nonhuman as critical to the future of twenty-first century studies in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. Unlike the posthuman turn, the nonhuman turn does not make a claim about teleology or progress in which we begin with the human and see a transformation from the human to the posthuman. Rather, the nonhuman turn insists, paraphrasing Bruno Latour, that we have never been human; that the human has always coevolved, coexisted, or collaborated with the nonhuman; and that the human is identified precisely by this indistinction from the nonhuman. Dracula and Philosophy Nicolas Michaud, Janelle Pötzsch, 2015-07-14 Twenty-four nocturnal philosophers stake out and vivisect Dracula from many angles, unearthing evidence from numerous movies and shows, macabre, terrifying, tragic, and comic. Altmann decides whether Dracula can really be blamed for his crimes since it's his nature as a vampire to behave a certain way. Arp argues that Dracula's addiction to live human blood dooms him to perpetual misery. Karavitis sees Dracula as a Randian individual pitted against the Marxist.

collective Ketcham contrives a meeting between Dracula and the Jewish theologian Maimonides Littmann maintains that if we disapprove of Dracula's behavior we ought to be vegetarians Mahon uses the example of Dracula to resolve nagging problems about the desirability of immortality McCrossin and Wolfe disinter some of the re-interpretations of this now mythical character and asks whether we can identify an essential Dracula Pramik shows how the Dracula tale embodies Kierkegaard's three stages of life Barkman and Versteeg ponder what it would really feel like to be Dracula The Greens publish some previous unknown letters between Dracula and Camus's Meursault Vuckovich looks at the sexual morality of characters in the Dracula saga De Waal explains that Dracula is scary because every time this being appears it causes gender trouble

Constitutionalising Secession David Haljan, 2014-11-01 Constitutionalising Secession proceeds from the question What if anything does the law have to say about a secession crisis But rather than approaching secession through the optic of political or nationalist institutional accommodation this book focuses on the underpinnings to a constitutional order as a law making community underpinnings laid bare by secession pressures Relying on the corrosive effects of secession it explores the deep structure of a constitutional order and the motive forces creating and sustaining that order A core idea is that the normativity of law is best understood through a constitutional optic as an integrative associative force Constitutionalising Secession critically analyses conceptions of constitutional order implicit in the leading models of secession and takes as a leading case study the judicial and legislative response to secession in Canada The book therefore develops a concept of constitutionalism and law making associative constitutionalism to describe their deep structure as a continuing integrative process of association This model of a dynamic process of value formation can address both the association and the disassociation of constitutional systems

What I Don't Know about Animals Jenny Diski, 2011-01-01 What does novelist essayist and memoirist Jenny Diski know about animals She wasn't really sure as she began to write this book and she may not be sure now But of this she is certain our relationships with and attitudes toward animals are really worth thinking about In What I Don't Know About Animals she shows why Diski sets out on her wide ranging investigation by remembering the stuffed cuddly creatures from her childhood the animal books she read the cartoons she watched the strays she found She considers the animals who have lived and still live with her most especially Bunty the cat animals she has encountered close up and those she has feared She examines human beings too and how they have looked at studied treated and written about the non human creatures of our shared planet Ranging still further the author interviews scientists discusses Derrida and his cat and observes elephants in Kenya always seeking the key to the complex relationship we in the modern West have with animals Subtle intelligent and always engaging this book is a brilliant exploration of what it means to be human and what it means to be animal and the uncertainty of what we can know about either

Social Experience and Anthropological Knowledge Kirsten Hastrup, 2003-12-16 Anthropology poses an explicit challenge to standard notions of scientific knowledge It claims to produce genuine insights into the workings of culture in general on the basis of individual social experience in the field Social Experience and Anthropological Knowledge traces the process from the ethnographic experience to the analytical results showing how fieldwork enables the ethnographer to arrive at an understanding not only of culture and society but also of the processes by which cultures and societies are transformed The contributors challenge the distinction between subjectivity and objectivity redefine what we should mean by empirical and demonstrate the complexity of present day epistemological problems through concrete examples By demystifying subjectivity in the ethnographic process and re emphasizing the vital position of fieldwork they do much to renew confidence in the anthropological project of comprehending the world

In 1933 the crime writer Erle Stanley Gardner himself a practicing lawyer unleashed the character Perry Mason in the novel The Case of the Velvet Claws Perry Mason entered into public consciousness as a new conception of the role of the defense lawyer so that millions of Americans came to expect every criminal trial to have its Perry Mason moment In the 1950s the Perry Mason TV show had a phenomenal success and Mason came to be identified with Raymond Burr Now Perry Mason has again been restored to life in the HBO series starring Matthew Rhys and John Lithgow Meanwhile the eighty two original Erle Stanley Gardner novels continue to sell thousands of copies each week Perry Mason gave America a new conception of the trial lawyer as someone who was always loyal to his client and always prepared to use dirty tricks such as misdirection and withholding of evidence to protect the innocent and secure the ends of justice The Mason of the novels is less scrupulous than the Raymond Burr Mason and would sometimes be in danger of going to jail if the trial didn't turn out right which it always did largely because of Mason's cleverness The Perry Mason icon raises many philosophical issues explored by seventeen different philosophers in this book including Can we defend Paul Drake's claim The Case of the Blonde Bonanza that Mason is a paragon of righteous virtue despite his predilection for skating on thin legal ice Can complex murder cases be solved by facts alone or do we also need empathy The most convincing way to give a TV episode a surprise ending is by the guilty person suddenly confessing But in reality is a confession necessarily so convincing Does Perry Mason represent the Messiah How does the Raymond Burr Perry Mason compare with the more recent TV character Saul Goodman Breaking Bad and Better Call Saul Is it morally okay to mislead the police if this helps your client and your client is innocent How does Perry Mason help us understand the distinction between natural law and positive law Do the Perry Mason stories comply with Aristotle's recipe for a good work of fiction Does life imitate art when Perry Mason is cited in real life courtroom arguments How much trickery can be justified by loyalty to one's client Can evidence in murder trials be evaluated by probability theory Perry Mason is officially a lawyer and unofficially a detective But isn't he really a historian and a psychoanalyst Della Street is a competent legal secretary but is she something more Mason often says that Eye witness testimony is the worst kind of evidence and occasionally that Circumstantial evidence is the best evidence we have Can these claims be defended

Welfare to Work Amir Paz-Fuchs, 2008 Welfare to work programmes that apply conditions to benefits constitute a new type of social contract This book argues that conditional welfare undermines civil rights and that strengthening welfare rights and relaxing rules of entitlement would better achieve the ends that welfare to work programmes should advance

Blind Visitor Experiences at Art Museums Simon J. Hayhoe, 2017-05-30 Blind Visitor Experiences at Art Museums seeks to answer two questions Given the guiding principle of visual art being understood only by sight what do people understand when sight is diminished or not there Moreover given the experience of blindness what are the effects of vision loss or no vision on a cultural identity in art It does this by exploring seven in depth case studies of visitors to the education department at the Metropolitan Museum of Art New York and the experiences of leading groups by two teachers In addition this book includes findings from participant observations in classes and touch tours for blind and visually impaired people at the Metropolitan Museum of Art After reading this book readers will understand both passive and active social exclusion from the museum's facilities active exclusion is defined as a deliberate act of exclusion based on the belief that blind people are incapable of understanding visual art whereas passive exclusion is defined as exclusion resulting from an aspect of miseducation such as inappropriate building design or learning materials or a lack of training knowledge resources access materials or buildings Simple Faith Stephen W. Hiemstra, 2019-04-26 As Christians how do we know what we know This simple question challenges the nature of information how we learn decision making who we are and who this God is that we worship If this challenge appears optional it is not our post Christian culture questions every faith assumption Simple Faith examines these questions and discusses implications for faith and life An important implication of this study is that faith plays a critical role into how we think learn and make decisions in the context of limited resources and an uncertain future Even scientific inquiry requires faith which normally gets hidden in untested assumptions and presumptions about what is interesting to investigate Often the critical arguments driving our decisions are not cold hard facts but the stories that we tell in the midst of complex decision environments The timing of this inquiry is critical The movement from modern to postmodern thinking has upended most institutions but especially the Christian church The separation of heart and mind which characterizes modern thinking eroded faith leaving the church in a weak position to adapt to the rapid changes accompanying postmodernism Ironically postmodern thinking that values storytelling favors Christian faith because the Gospel of Jesus Christ is the best story around

The Meaning of Terrorism C. A. J. Coady, 2021-05-27 In The Meaning of Terrorism C A J Coady clarifies competing and confusing definitions of terrorism and of terrorist acts that proliferate in specialist publications as well as in popular discourse Coady aims to construct a concept of a terrorist act that both reflects a central core of these different understandings which provides for a more coherent and fruitful discussion of terrorism and its moral and political significance The goal is therefore not only to gain clarity about what the term designates but also to probe various dimensions of the moral meaning of our understanding of terrorism for complex social and political circumstances The opening chapters sketch the commonly propounded definitions and propose what Coady calls a tactical definition with a focus on terrorist acts as violent attacks upon non combatants or innocents The benefits of such an approach are laid out and defences against numerous objections that can be and have been made to it are given The book critically discusses theorists who argue that independent of its definition terrorist acts have a special and profoundly disturbing moral significance Coady explores the scope and meaning of non combatant status and its relation to recent controversies in the philosophy of war and discusses important attempted philosophical defences of terrorism for certain contexts The book closes with a discussion of the moral challenges facing attempts at counter terrorism and examines the commonly held view that religion is particularly prone to cause terrorism or some of its most extreme manifestations

Thinking Through Twentieth-Century Architecture Nicholas Ray, 2023-02-08 Shortlisted for the Architectural Book Awards 2024 Thinking Through Twentieth Century Architecture connects the practice of architecture with its recent history and its theoretical origins those philosophical ideas that lay behind modernism and its aftermath By analyzing in straightforward and jargon free language the genesis of modernism and the complex reactions to it the book clarifies a continuing debate It has been specifically written to connect issues of theory history and contemporary practice and to allow students to make these connections easily This is a history of twentieth century architecture written with close critical attention to the theories that lie behind the works described. Importantly, unlike other historical accounts, it does not take sides and urge the reader to identify with one strand of thinking or style of architecture at the expense of others but it presents a dispassionate view with persuasive arguments on behalf of different positions. It pursues the history of European and American architecture chronologically but the history is interwoven with the philosophical ideas that informed both writers and architects and are essential for its understanding. The book is relevant to current issues of contemporary practice and education, showing that philosophical issues are fundamental and those relating to design decisions never go away. It includes 200 illustrations and will appeal to all those interested in twentieth-century architecture and to architectural students.

Dealing with Death Oliver Nahm, 2017. Any sentence that begins 'All societies have is either baseless or banal.' Oliver Nahm sets out to disprove this statement made by the renowned anthropologist Clifford Geertz. Analyzing the beliefs, myths, and legends of different religious groups surrounding death and dying, author Nahm shows that behind the facade of diversity there lie the same needs which are in turn met by similar solutions. With an interdisciplinary approach, Nahm uncovers important commonalities between diverse societies and demonstrates that such findings are neither baseless nor banal. Dissertation Series Studies in interdisciplinary Thanatology. Studien zur interdisziplinären Thanatologie Vol. 14. Subject: Cultural Studies, Sociology, Death Studies, Religious Studies.

Making Sense of God Timothy Keller, 2018-03-20. We live in an age of skepticism. Our society places such faith in empirical reason, historical progress, and heartfelt emotion that it's easy to wonder: Why should anyone believe in Christianity? What role can faith and religion play in our modern lives? In this thoughtful and inspiring new book, pastor and New York Times bestselling author Timothy Keller invites skeptics to consider that Christianity is more relevant now than ever. As human beings, we cannot live without meaning, satisfaction, freedom, identity, justice, and hope. Christianity provides us with unsurpassed resources to meet these needs. Written for both the ardent believer and the skeptic, Making Sense of God shines a light on the profound value and importance of Christianity in our lives.
