N N n c w c m stolen with me Genesis Chapter 30 From Heraclitus of Ephesus and later philosophers we can deduce that observation of natural phenomena even when keen and accurate will not result in meaningful knowledge unless combined with analysis of the mind just as analysis of the mind without acquaintance with natural phenomena will not suffice to grasp the perceivable world

Only familiarity with phenomena combined with mental analysis will lead to additional knowledge

The citation from Genesis Chapter 30 is part of an unusual story It tells how Jacob received as payment for his service to Laban the bulk of Laban's herds

By agreement Jacob was to receive only the newborn speckled and spotted goats and the newborn brown sheep that differed completely from their parents

Did Jacob know that there was instability transposable elements in the pigmentation of Laban's herd

It is reasonable to assume that Jacob combined his keen observation with analysis of his mind in order to predict the outcome

most of the newborns were indeed speckled spotted or brown
