People Of The Bomb Portraits Of Americas Nuclear Complex:

People of the Bomb Hugh Gusterson, 2004 E L Doctorow suggested that in the years since 1945 the nuclear bomb has come to compose the identity of the American people Developing this theme Hugh Gusterson shows how the military industrial complex has transformed public culture personal psychology in America to create a nuclear people Atomic Mumbai Raminder Kaur, 2020-11-29 Atomic Mumbai offers an insightful historical and ethnographic account of how nuclear issues are represented in popular culture print media films documentaries advertising and superhero comics driven by perceptions of those based in the city of Mumbai a prime site of nuclear establishments in India since the mid 1940s Based on long term fieldwork and including rare photographs narratives and extensive interviews the volume documents urban nuclear imaginaries along with their terrifying association with genetic mutation and death The Little Red Book: Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung Mao Tse-tung, 2024-03-17 Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse tung is a book of statements from speeches and writings by Mao Zedong Mao Tse tung the former Chairman of the Communist Party of China published from 1964 to about 1976 and widely distributed during the Cultural Revolution The most popular versions were printed in small sizes that could be easily carried and were bound in bright red covers becoming commonly known in the West as the Little Red Book Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse tung was originally compiled by an office of the PLA Daily People s Liberation Army Daily as an inspirational political and military document The initial publication covered 23 topics with 200 selected quotations by the Chairman of the Chinese Communist Party and was entitled 200 Quotations from Chairman Mao It was first given to delegates of a conference on 5 January 1964 who were asked to comment on it In response to the views of the deputies and compilers of the book the work was expanded to address 25 topics with 267 quotations and the title was changed simply to Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse Tung Rethinking the American Antinuclear Movement Paul Robinson, 2018-01-29 The massive movement against nuclear weapons began with the invention of the atomic bomb in 1945 and lasted throughout the Cold War Antinuclear protesters of all sorts mobilized in defiance of the move toward nuclear defense in the wake of the Cold War They influenced U S politics resisting the mindset of nuclear deterrence and mutually assured destruction The movement challenged Cold War militarism and restrained leaders who wanted to rely almost exclusively on nuclear weapons for national security Ultimately a huge array of activists decided that nuclear weapons made the country less secure and that through testing and radioactive fallout they harmed the very people they were supposed to protect Rethinking the American Antinuclear Movement provides a short accessible overview of this important social and political movement highlighting key events and figures the strengths and weaknesses of the activists and its lasting effects on the country It is perfect for anyone wanting to obtain an introduction to the American antinuclear movement and the massive reach of this transnational concern A Companion to the Literature and Culture of the American West Nicolas S. Witschi, 2011-05-04 A Companion to the Literature and Culture of the American West presents a series of essays that explore the historic and contemporary cultural expressions rooted in America's western states. Offers a comprehensive approach to the wide range of cultural expressions originating in the west. Focuses on the intersections, complexities and challenges found within and between the different historical and cultural groups that define the west's various distinctive regions. Addresses traditionally familiar icons and ideas about the west such as cowboys, wide open spaces and violence and their intersections with urbanization and other regional complexities. Features essays written by many of the leading scholars in western American cultural studies.

Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood Heather Snell, Lorna Hutchison, 2013-11-07. The essays in this collection address the relationship between children and cultural memory in texts both for and about young people. The collection overall is concerned with how cultural memory is shaped, contested, forgotten, recovered and re-circulated, sometimes in opposition to dominant national narratives and often for the benefit of young readers who are assumed not to possess any prior cultural memory. From the innovative development of school libraries in the 1920s to the role of utopianism in fixing cultural memory for teen readers, it provides a critical look into children and ideologies of childhood as they are represented in a broad spectrum of texts including film, poetry, literature and architecture from Canada, the United States, Japan, Germany, Britain, India and Spain. These cultural forms collaborate to shape ideas and values in turn contributing to dominant discourses about national and global citizenship. The essays included in the collection imply that childhood is an oft imagined idealist construction based in large part on participation, identity and perception; childhood is invisible and tangible, exciting and intriguing and at times elusive even as cultural and literary artifacts recreate it. Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood is a valuable resource for scholars of children's literature and culture, readers interested in childhood and ideology and those working in the fields of diaspora and postcolonial studies.

Scripting Revolution Keith Michael Baker, Dan Edelstein, 2015-10-07. The Arab Spring was heralded and publicly embraced by foreign leaders of many countries that define themselves by their own historic revolutions. The contributors to this volume examine the legitimacy of these comparisons by exploring whether or not all modern revolutions follow a pattern or script. Traditionally, historians have studied revolutions as distinct and separate events. Drawing on close familiarity with many different cultures, languages and historical transitions, this anthology presents the first cohesive historical approach to the comparative study of revolutions. This volume argues that the American and French Revolutions provided the genesis of the revolutionary script that was rewritten by Marx, which was revised by Lenin and the Bolshevik Revolution, which was revised again by Mao and the Chinese Communist Revolution. Later revolutions in Cuba and Iran improvised further. This script is once again on display in the capitals of the Middle East and North Africa and it will serve as the model for future revolutionary movements.

Human Rights in India Satvinder Juss, 2019-09-24. This volume presents an integrated collection of essays around the theme of India's failure to grapple with the big questions of human rights protections affecting marginalized minority groups in the country's recent rush to modernization. The book traverses a broad range of rights violations from gender equality to sexual orientation from judicial review of national security law to national security concerns from water rights to forest rights of those in need and from the persecution of Muslims in Gulberg to India's parallel legal system of Lok Adalats to resolve disputes It calls into question India's claim to be a contemporary liberal democracy The thesis is given added strength by the authors diverse perspectives which ultimately create a synergy that stimulates the thinking of the entire field of human rights but in the context of a non western country thereby prompting many specialists in human rights to think in new ways about their research and the direction of the field both in India and beyond In an area that has been under researched the work will provide valuable guidance for new research ideas experimental designs and analyses in key cutting edge issues covered in this work such as acid attacks or the right to protest against the nuclear state in India
