

What is Visual Perception?

Visual perception is the ability to see and interpret (analyze and give meaning to) the visual information that surrounds us. The process of "taking in" one's environment is referred to as perception.

or

" visual perception is the end product of vision"

It can be described as the way the brain interprets what the eyes see.

Perception Of The Visual Environment Perception Of The Visual Environment:

Perception of the Visual Environment Ronald G. Boothe, 2001-11-16 Aimed at students taking a course on visual perception this textbook considers what it means for a man a monkey and a computer to perceive the world After an introduction and a discussion of methods the book deals with how the environment produces a physical effect how the resulting image is processed by the brain or by computer algorithms in order to produce a perception of something out there It also discusses color form motion distance and also the sensing of three dimensionality before dealing with visual perception and its role in awareness and consciousness The book concludes with discussions of perceptual development blindness and visual disorders Visual perception is by its very nature an interdisciplinary subject that requires a basic understanding of a range of topics from diverse fields and this is a very readable guide to all students whether they come from a neuroscience psychology cognitive science robotics or philosophy background
