People Land Time Introduction Environment:

People, Land and Time Brian Roberts, Peter Atkins, Ian Simmons, 2014-05-12 This major new text provides an introduction to the interaction of culture and society with the landscape and environment. It offers a broad based view of this theme by drawing upon the varied traditions of landscape interpretation from the traditional cultural geography of scholars such as Carl Sauer to the new cultural geography which has emerged in the 1990s. The book comprises three major interwoven strands. First fundamental factors such as environmental change and population pressure are addressed in order to sketch the contextual variables of landscapes production. Second the evolution of the humanised landscape is discussed in terms of processes such as clearing wood the impact of agriculture the creation of urban industrial complexes and is also treated in historical periods such as the pre industrial the modern and the post modern. From this we can see the cultural and economic signatures of human societies at different times and places. Finally examples of landscape types are selected in order to illustrate the ways in which landscape both represents and participates in social change. The authors use a wide range of source material ranging from place names and pollen diagrams to literature and heritage monuments. Superbly illustrated throughout it is essential reading for first year undergraduates studying historical geography human geography cultural geography or landscape history.

Climate Change Adaptation in Africa Gufu Oba, 2014-07-11 In the context of growing global concerns about climate change this book presents a regional and sub continental synthesis of pastoralists responses to past environmental changes and reflects on the lessons for current and future environmental challenges Drawing from rock art archaeology paleoecological data trade ancient hydrological technology vegetation social memory and historical documentation this book creates detailed reconstructions of past climate change adaptations across Sahelian Africa It evaluates the present and future challenges to climate change adaptation in the region in terms of social memory rainfall variability environmental change and armed conflicts and examines the ways in which governance and policy drivers may undermine pastoralists adaptive strategies The book s scope covers the Red Sea coast Somaliland Somalia the Ogaden region of Ethiopia and northern Kenya part of the Ethiopian highlands and Eritrea areas where past climate change has been extreme and future change makes it vital to understand the dynamics of adaptation This book will be of interest to students and scholars of environmental history human ecology geography climate change environment studies development studies pastoralism anthropology and African studies

Global Environmental History Ian G Simmons, 2008-03-05 Courses which deal with environmental history have long lacked a comprehensive overview I G Simmons has made a significant contribution with a book that looks at the long term history of environment and humanity from 10 000 BC to AD 2000 This far reaching text considers the global picture and recognises the contributions of many disciplines including the natural sciences the social sciences and increasingly the humanities As a starting point this book takes the major phases of human technological evolution of the last 12 000 years and considers how these have affected the natural world It then considers the response to conditions such as climate change putting today s preoccupations into a long term perspective This is a book of history not prophecy and so makes no judgements on current anxieties

People and the Land through Time Emily W. B. (Russell) Southgate, 2019-09-03 A revised and updated edition of a classic book that defines the field of historical ecology People and the Land through Time first published in 1997 remains the only introduction to the field of historical ecology from the perspective of ecology and ecosystem processes Widely praised for its emphasis on the integration of historical information into scientific analyses it will be useful to an interdisciplinary audience of students and professionals in ecology conservation history archaeology geography and anthropology This up to date second edition addresses current issues in historical ecology such as the proposed geological epoch the Anthropocene historical species dispersal and extinction the impacts of past climatic fluctuations and trends in sustainability and conservation

Toward Self-Sufficiency George Hunt, 2018-11-16 George Hunt spent more than fifty years as a community planner and landscape architect This included hands on work in impoverished and low income areas which helped him understand the dynamics that hold us back from achieving self sufficiency In this book he outlines a sustainable community project that seeks to solve social problems that most community planners overlook The pilot project includes numerous ways to make communities self sufficient and while it s geared for those in middle and lower income brackets anyone can use its concepts He explains how multiple purpose buildings can be used to house a diversity of people ways to launch a business within the community by collaborating and sharing with others how to obtain a vocational work study program offered on site and more The book is also a reference manual on transition community design creating a purpose the meaning of happiness sustainable agricultural practices how to live without stuff and how to reduce anxiety and depression

Companion Encyclopedia of Geography Ian Douglas, Richard Huggett, Chris Perkins, 2018-10-24 This revised edition takes the theme of place as the unifying principle for a full account of the discipline at the beginning of the twenty first century The work comprises sixty four substantial essays addressing human and physical geography and exploring their inter relations The Encyclopedia does full justice to the enormous growth of social and cultural geography in recent years Leading international academics from ten countries and four continents have contributed ensuring that differing traditions in geography around the world are represented In addition to references the essays also have recommendations for further reading As with the original work the new Companion Encyclopedia of Geography provides a state of the art survey of the discipline and is an indispensable addition to the reference shelves of libraries supporting research and teaching in geography

Law, Religion and the Environment in Africa M. Christian Green, Muhammed Haron, 2020-06-03 This volume explores themes of ecotheology ecofeminism environmental pollution and degradation climate change human and environmental rights sustainable development human animal relations through totem and taboo sacred sites and spaces and other environmental topics in ways that add immeasurably to the study of African environmentalisms and the interaction of law and religion In terms of religion the capability of humans not only to sin and destroy the earth but also to repair and redeem it is very much in evidence across Christianity Islam and Africa s many indigenous religious and cultural traditions In terms of law the need for effective policies and for states and governments to work with indigenous groups and communities towards environmental solutions is also apparent

Mediterranean Mountain Environments Ioannis Vogiatzakis, 2012-07-02 Mediterranean mountains exhibit many similarities in their biotic ecological physical and environmental characteristics There are also many differences in terms of their human colonization pattern historic land uses and current anthropogenic pressures This book provides an introduction to these environments of mountainous areas in the Mediterranean and their changes in time and space in relation to both natural and cultural factors Mediterranean Mountain Environments places its emphasis on physical geography while adopting an integrated approach to the whole subject area The book draws examples from a wide range of environments demonstrating the interaction between human and physical processes responsible for shaping mountain areas Risks and conflicts as well as methods and tools for the conservation and management of both the natural and cultural environment are covered in the light of future challenges for the sustainable development of the Mediterranean mountains Emphasis on both mainland and island mountain ranges Combines natural and cultural approach in the topic Integrated approach facing future challenges based on the study and understanding of the historical processes that have shaped the Mediterranean mountains Key references at the end of each chapter

People, Land & Water, 2002

Population, Resources, and the Environment Ronald Gene Ridker, 1972 Geomorphology and Global Environmental Change Olav Slaymaker, Tom Spencer, Christine Embleton-Hamann, 2009-07-02 A statement from the world's leading geomorphologists on the state of and potential changes to the environment Environmental Studies Anindita Basak, 2009 Mi'kmaq Landscapes Anne-Christine Hornborg, 2016-07-22 This book seeks to explore historical changes in the lifeworld of the Mi'kmaq Indians of Eastern Canada. The Mi'kmaq culture hero Kluskap serves as a key persona in discussing issues such as traditions, changing conceptions of land, and human environmental relations. In order not to depict Mi'kmaq culture as timeless, two important periods in its history are examined. Within the first period, between 1850 and 1930, Hornborg explores historical evidence of the ontology, epistemology, and ethics jointly labelled animism that stem from a premodern Mi'kmaq hunting subsistence. New ways of discussing animism and shamanism are here richly exemplified. The second study situates the culture hero in the modern world of the 1990s when allusions to Mi'kmaq tradition and to Kluskap played an important role in the struggle against a planned superquarry on Cape Breton. This study discusses the eco-cosmology that has been formulated by modern reserve inhabitants which could be labelled a sacred ecology. Focusing on how the Mi'kmaq are rebuilding their traditions and environmental relations in interaction with modern society, Hornborg illustrates how environmental groups, pan-Indianism, and education play an important role, but so does reserve life. By anchoring their engagement in reserve life, the Mi'kmaq traditionalists have to a large extent been able to confront both external and internal doubts about their authenticity Food Policy Environments: Discursive Effects, Material Consequences Myriam Durocher, Caitlin M. Scott, Irena Knezevic, 2022-07-26 Environmental Assessment and Finding of No Significant Impact, Horicon National Wildlife Refuge Resource Restoration Plan, Dodge and Fond Du Lac Counties, Wisconsin, 1995 Framework and Tools for Environmental Management in Africa Godwell Nhamo, Ekpe Inyang, 2011-04-01 The 21st century qualifies as one in which humanity raised environmental decay, especially climate change, as a key global concern requiring urgent political attention. The book Framework and Tools for Environmental Management in Africa is written from this perspective. It provides researchers from different disciplines, including environmental sciences, engineering, commerce, planning, education, agriculture, and law, as well as NGOs, government officials, policy makers, and researchers with a platform to engage with concerns relating to sustainable environmental management in this epoch. Topics covered include global landmarks for environmental governance, environmental management on African agenda, sustainability reporting, environmental impact assessment, and public participation, as well as environmental education. These remain viable in the African set-up where major development projects in mining and agriculture require greater scrutiny. With a collection of both revision and critical reflection questions carefully constructed by authors with significant experiences from institutions of higher learning across Africa, readers will find this publication a valuable addition to their shelves Sustainable Building and Built Environments to Mitigate Climate Change in the Tropics Tri

Harso Karyono, Robert Vale, Brenda Vale, 2017-02-21 This book offers a selection of the best papers presented during the International conference on Mitigating and Adapting Built Environments for Climate Change in the Tropics held at Tanri Abeng University TAU Jakarta Indonesia March 2015 The book is divided into four main parts The first part deals with the general issue of climate change the cause and the ways to mitigate and to adapt the built environment for climate change in a number of countries Part 2 deals with the conceptual ways to mitigate building for climate change The ways to reduce cooling energy in tropical buildings by means of passive design Part 3 offers papers that examine the way to overcome disasters in the city caused by climate change The final part deals with the role of plants in mitigating and adapting built environments to climate change the use of plants trees and bushes to directly and indirectly reduce carbon emissions are discussed

Aboriginal Environmental Impacts James L. Kohen, 1995 When Captain Arthur Phillip arrived in Port Jackson Sydney he saw a magnificent harbour lined with trees Many areas were park like in appearance with well spaced trees interspersed with patches of grass The local Aborigines were soon driven away and with them went the practice of regularly burning off the undergrowth The grass disappeared and the undergrowth took over and so emerged the untidy bush of the foreshore that we see today For 50 000 years before white settlement the Aboriginal people were an integral part of the environment They harvested the land and they changed the environment to suit themselves Fire was their tool for doing this The degree to which hunting and burning has changed the patterns of vegetation and populations of fauna is hotly debated Were the Aborigines responsible for the disappearance of the megafauna In this book Kohen says they were a contributing factor but probably only after major population declines due to climate change He presents the arguments and evidence to show that Aboriginal influence on many ecosystems of this continent has been profound and that any understanding of the Australian environment must take this into account

Environmental Concerns J.A. Hansen, 2012-12-06 How am I concerned about the environment from where I stand professionally Or what is the environmental edge of my profession A number of outstanding academics were asked to consider these questions in 1989 with the aim of opening an innovative discussion on environmental changes and an understanding of how these are related to human activities At the personal invitation of the Programme Committee 17 individuals each of whom have different professional backgrounds and nationalities prepared a paper and met for a symposium in Elsinore Denmark in September of 1990 Some of the authors revised their original papers as a result of the discussions during the symposium After peer review and editing the contributions were printed in this book in versions that express the authors personal convictions and priority environmental concerns The authors contributed to the symposium by delivering papers and participating in stimulating and sometimes provocative discussions The Programme Committee is grateful for the professional inspiration provided and for the spiritual and warm social atmosphere in which the symposium took place
