Mannequin Placement & Composition

Mannequin placement and composition go hand in hand. Before choosing your layout, determine your vision, determine your entry angle. Focus attention on the person, as well as the clothing they are wearing. Based on the width of the aisle, the height of the mannequin, and the composition of the clothing, determine your presentation. Consider a variety of layouts including different poses, different types of accessories, and different mannequin types.

Good placement and composition will:

- Create a cohesive look
- Showcase your brand
- Highlight a specific item or collection
- Create a sense of movement and flow
- Present a variety of products, including accessories

Extending Product Presentation

The addition of accessories and other items to your product presentation helps to extend the presentation. It also creates a variety of visual and tactile experiences for the customer in the presentation.

Why this works

By grouping mannequins together with accessories, it creates a cohesive look and feel.
