Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson,2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to grab and go meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then next time you've already mini meal prepped Granted though meal prepping refers to making 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like making your lunches for the week all at once instead of making your lunch every day You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping involves no waste and results in time to do other things outside of the kitchen whether that's planning a diet or a budget When making your meal plan the first question to ask is how many meals you need to eat each day without having to cook each day Meal prepping is not for everyone It is good for people who value convenience and free more time than cost With meal prepping you generally eat the same thing for a few days in a row so if you don't like leftovers or get bored with food meal prepping isn't for you If having nutritious food while maximizing your time and budget is important to you then trying something different every day meal prepping is not for you I've generally not seen meal prepping for the family or maybe one other person do a whole family Meal prepping for a whole family would be quite difficult but there are a lot of things that would make it easier if you have a family If food is stored in the refrigerator for a long time it can become soggy and lose its texture and flavor so if you're eating it all at once it's better If you're eating it over a few days it's better In addition to the way food is packed the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the quality of your food If you're using a refrigerator that's not working properly the food might not be as good as it should be Always begin with the guidelines that the FDA and then follow them to your own preferences In general I don't think it's more than a few days worth of food that you can make ahead of time I find that that's the best way to do it
