Popular Music in a Digital Music Economy Tim J. Anderson, 2013-12-17 In the late 1990s the MP3 became the de facto standard for digital audio files and the networked computer began to claim a significant place in the lives of more and more listeners. The dovetailing of these two circumstances is the basis of a new mode of musical production and distribution where new practices emerge. This book is not a definitive statement about what the new music industry is. Rather, it is devoted to what this new industry is becoming by examining these practices as experiments dedicated to negotiating what is replacing an object-based industry oriented around the production and exchange of physical recordings. In this new economy, constant attention is paid to the production and licensing of intellectual property and the rise of the social musician who has been encouraged to become more entrepreneurial. Finally, every element of the industry now must consider a new type of audience: the end user and their productive and distributive capacities around which services and musicians must orient their practices and investments.

Digital Disruption Bharat Vagadia, 2020-09-25 This book goes beyond the hype, delving into real-world technologies and applications that are driving our future and examines the possible impact these changes will have on industries, economies, and society at large. It details the actions governments and regulators must take in order to ensure these changes bring about positive benefits to the public without stifling innovation that may well be the future source of value creation. It examines how organisations in a world of digital ecosystems, where industry boundaries are blurring, must undertake radical digital transformation to survive and thrive in this new digital world. The reader is taken through a framework that critically examines: i) Digital Connectivity including 5G and IoT; ii) Data Capture and Distribution, which includes smart connected verticals; iii) Data Integrity Control and Tokenisation, that includes cyber security, digital signatures, blockchain, smart contracts, digital assets, and cryptocurrencies; iv) Data Processing and Artificial Intelligence; and v) Disruptive Applications, which include platforms, virtual and augmented reality, drones, autonomous vehicles, digital twins, and digital assistants.

Out-Innovate Alexandre "Alex" Lazarow,2020-04-07 The new playbook for innovation and startup success is emerging from beyond Silicon Valley at the frontier Startups have changed the world In the United States many startups such as Tesla Apple and Amazon have become household names The economic value of startups has doubled since 1992 and is projected to double again in the next fifteen years For decades the hot center of this phenomenon has been Silicon Valley This is changing fast Thanks to technology startups are now taking root

everywhere from Delhi to Detroit to Nairobi to Sao Paulo Yet despite this globalization of startup activity our knowledge of how to build successful startups is still drawn primarily from Silicon Valley As venture capitalist Alexandre Lazarow shows in this insightful and instructive book this Silicon Valley gospel is due for a refresh and it comes from what he calls the frontier the growing constellation of startup ecosystems outside of the Valley and other major economic centers that now stretches across the globe The frontier is a truly different world where startups often must cope with political or economic instability and lack of infrastructure and where there might be little or no access to angel investors venture capitalists or experienced employee pools Under such conditions entrepreneurs must be creators who build industries rather than disruptors who change them because there are few existing businesses to disrupt The companies they create must be global from birth because local markets are too small They focus on resiliency and sustainability rather than unicorn style growth at any cost With rich and wide ranging stories of frontier innovators from around the world Out Innovate is the new playbook for innovation wherever it has the potential to happen Ear Economy Ying Huang,2024-04-30 This book sheds light on the overall description and explanation of the current socio political economic and cultural environment concerning the development of China s audio streaming programs industry It interprets the emergence of the ear economy through the subjects of media ecology media psychology communication studies and cultural criticism media industrial studies sociology and anthropology The book skillfully weaves together historical cultural and industry studies along with textual and critical discourse analysis This interdisciplinary work contributes to multiple academic fields including literary and cultural studies media and communication studies China Asia studies and political theory Sonic Sovereignty Liz Przybylski,2023-07-25 As an embodied practice of Indigenous self determination through musical expression sonic sovereignty offers a frame to listen for the effects of expressive culture in the world Experimenting with possibilities of listening in relation to time and perspective this book coalesces reflections across time and vantage point so that readers can listen backwards and forwards into possible futures Let's Agree to Disagree Nolan Higdon,Mickey Huff,2022-02-22 In an age defined by divisive discourse and disinformation democracy hangs in the balance Let s Agree to Disagree seeks to reverse these trends by fostering constructive dialogue through critical thinking and critical media literacy This transformative text introduces readers to useful theories powerful case studies and easily adoptable strategies for becoming sharper critical thinkers more effective communicators and critically media literate citizens
