QUITTING QUIETUDE : Putting Pain to Paper Proving the Power of Intrapersonal Communication Dr Alok Kumar Mathur,2025-05-27 Quitting the Quietude Putting Pain to Paper is more than a collection of reflections via intrapersonal communication It is an endeavour to amplify the voices that have been quietened for too long It demonstrates how revealing your story can be a tool for both personal healing and social change The world would witness a wave of voices that were once stifled stories of pain fear and violation that were too often dismissed or ignored But for every story that has come to light countless others remain hidden in the dark corners of society These narratives are not just about agony and suffering they are about breaking cycles regaining courage and making space for fresh dialogue It is a guide to reshaping how we raise the next Generation Alpha and Beta teaching our sons to protect and respect and empower our daughters to claim their voices It is a powerful call to stir that silence especially in the homes where the seeds of mutual respect empathy and consent must be planted from the very beginning This edited collection proposes the role of parents in raising sons who understand boundaries practice empathy and respect consent It reveals how the lessons that shape a child s understanding of relationships and power are taught at home long before they encounter the world beyond

Surgical Decision Making Rifat Latifi, 2016-04-30 This text provides a comprehensive and state of the art overview of the major issues specific to the surgical decision making process These include patient s anatomy and pathophysiology as well as the magnitude of the injury at hand the surgeon s own physiologic and mental status training and experience and many other factors such as creativity leadership skills and overall biochemistry of the environment The text reviews theoretical as well as objective information that surgeons use to make intraoperative decisions in situations often with very limited data decisions that will decide between a patient s living or dying such as in trauma surgery and other complex surgeries How surgeons choose one technical approach over another in these situations is covered This book fills a critical need for resource materials on these topics and includes both theoretical as well as practical presentations of many typical patients seen in operating rooms around the world Surgical Decision Making Beyond the Evidence Based Surgery is written by academic and clinical practicing surgeons that face intraoperative decision situations on a daily basis and therefore provides a unique and valuable resource in the field for surgeons currently in training and for those already in clinical or research practice

One Weekend Only T. Evans, I'd just lost my job when I made the deal I put my life in billionaire Kenneth Marshall's hands as he offered me one weekend One weekend to remember To feel what I'd craved for too long To be alive again Wanted Craved I tried to cast the offer out of my mind but it was impossible I went running to him I wondered if it'd be just one weekend or if he'd have me longer I didn't know what tomorrow would bring but I knew being with him was something I had to do I thought about turning back and walking away but as I arrived at his doorstep I begged him to take me Now I had to wonder just what was he going to do with me
