Industrial Upgrading in China in the Era of New Industrial Revolution Changwen Zhao, Zhaoyuan Xu, 2024-09-01 This book delves into China's transition to mid to high end industries amid a new wave of global industrial revolution. It explores the fundamental principles and current dynamics of industrial upgrading, addressing topics such as industrial policies, managing overcapacity, and the removal of inefficient enterprises, all viewed through historical experiences, objective analyses, and systemic considerations. Based on the in-depth analysis of China's advantages, challenges, and strategic choices, the book concludes that upgrading is a must-way to go for China, involving pivotal areas such as structural upgrading, value chain optimization, product space expanding, quality enhancing, platform economy, and sharing economy, developing as well as the intersection of finance with industrial upgrading.

60 Miracles of Humanity Rohan Aggarwal, This book is a captivating collection of inspiring stories that highlight resilience, innovation, and the pursuit of happiness. From the Skating Grandma's Arctic Adventures to the Educator Carpenter's heroic efforts during the pandemic, each chapter showcases unique individuals overcoming challenges and making a difference. The book also delves into sustainability with tales like the Garbage Island and explores cultural preservation through the Village of Long Hair Women. With a blend of humor, heart, and hope, this book offers readers a diverse array of narratives that celebrate the human spirit and the power of perseverance.

Don't Knock the Hustle S. Craig Watkins, 2019-05-07 Offers a timely analysis of the sheer ingenuity and persistence of young people who cobble together the resources they need to pursue the lives and careers they want. Young adults are coming of age at a time when work is temporary, underpaid, incommensurate with their education, or downright unsatisfying. Despite these challenges, media scholar S. Craig Watkins argues that this moment of precarity is rife with opportunities for innovation and that young adults are leading the charge in turning that into an inventive and surprisingly sustainable future. As a result, society is expanding its understanding of who we think of as innovators and what qualifies as innovation, while wealth is spreading beyond traditional corridors of powerful tech companies, venture capitalism, and well-endowed universities. Drawing on over ten years of interviews and data, Watkins reveals the radical ways in which this community of ambitious young creatives is transforming businesses from the outside in. Diverse perspectives that are often ignored or silenced by major corporations are garnering public attention as women and people of color are redefining industries across the globe, all from their computer screens. We meet people like Prince Harvey, a New York-based hip-hop artist who recorded his album entirely on an Apple showroom laptop, screenwriter, producer, and actor Issa Rae, who first used YouTube and Kickstarter to develop the web series that became her hit HBO show Insecure, the Empowerment Plan, a nonprofit organization created by product design student Veronika Scott in Detroit, and start-up companies like Qeyno Group in San Francisco and Juegos Rancheros in Austin that help make tech more accessible to people of color. Forward thinking and dynamic, Don't Knock the Hustle shows the diversity and complexity of a generation on the rise.

Yoffie,2019-05-07 A trio of experts on high tech business strategy and innovation reveal the principles that have made platform businesses the most valuable firms in the world and the first trillion dollar companies Managers and entrepreneurs in the digital era must learn to live in two worlds the conventional economy and the platform economy Platforms that operate for business purposes usually exist at the level of an industry or ecosystem bringing together individuals and organizations so they can innovate and interact in ways not otherwise possible Platforms create economic value far beyond what we see in conventional companies The Business of Platforms is an invaluable in depth look at platform strategy and digital innovation Cusumano Gawer and Yoffie address how a small number of companies have come to exert extraordinary influence over every dimension of our personal professional and political lives They explain how these new entities differ from the powerful corporations of the past They also question whether there are limits to the market dominance and expansion of these digital juggernauts Finally they discuss the role governments should play in rethinking data privacy laws antitrust and other regulations that could reign in abuses from these powerful businesses Their goal is to help managers and entrepreneurs build platform businesses that can stand the test of time and win their share of battles with both digital and conventional competitors As experts who have studied and worked with these firms for some thirty years this book is the most authoritative and timely investigation yet of the powerful economic and technological forces that make platform businesses from Amazon and Apple to Microsoft Facebook and Google all dominant players in shaping the global economy the future of work and the political world we now face

The Golden Passport Duff McDonald,2017-04-25 From the New York Times bestselling author of The Firm A massively detailed history of Harvard Business School and a searing critique Kirkus Reviews With The Firm financial journalist Duff McDonald pulled back the curtain on consulting giant McKinsey Company In The Golden Passport he reveals the inner workings of a singular nexus of power ambition and influence Harvard Business School Harvard University still occupies a unique place in the public s imagination but the Harvard Business School eclipsed its parent in terms of influence on modern society long ago. A Harvard degree guarantees respect. But a Harvard MBA near guarantees entrance into Western capitalism's most powerful realm: the corner office. And because the School shapes the way its powerful graduates think, its influence extends well beyond their own lives. It affects the organizations they command and the economy they dominate. In addition to teasing out the essence of this exclusive, if not necessarily secret, club, McDonald explores two important questions: Has the school failed at reaching the goal it set for itself in 1908: the multiplication of men who will handle their current business problems in socially constructive ways? Is HBS complicit in the moral failings of Western capitalism? At a time of soaring economic inequality and growing political unrest, this hard-hitting yet fair portrait offers a much-needed look at a profoundly influential institution. Exploring how Harvard Business School became a ticket to the highest echelons of money, power, and influence, McDonald chronicles the school's history in an irreverent, cynical, and frequently funny exposé of its pretensions. Publishers Weekly: Impressively researched. I suspect McDonald won't be invited to campus anytime soon, but perhaps he should be. Agree with him or not, he deserves credit for raising questions that every business school needs to be asking. The New York Times

Youth Transitions among Descendants of Turkish Immigrants in Amsterdam and Strasbourg: Elif Keskiner, 2019-04-16. This open access book maps the youth transitions of descendants of migrants from Turkey living in Amsterdam and Strasbourg through a comparative mixed methods research design. As such, it is of interest to discussions in youth sociology, social mobility, and second generation research. The book follows transition trajectories of the second generation from school to activity or inactivity in the labour market to marriage or further study and deepens our understanding of transitions by unravelling the macro and micro mechanisms behind individual pathways. On the one hand, the author reveals the ongoing significance of distinct macro institutional settings as well as social structures such as social class, ethnicity, and gender in shaping the youth transition experience. On the other, she shows that youth transitions are not predestined to social reproduction when institutional and social structures create conditions for the development of resources necessary for social mobility. Therefore, through an examination of how immigrants' descendants develop forms of capital in their social trajectories in relation to institutional and social structures, the book advances the theoretical discussion on Bourdieu's capital theory. Moreover, in times when native-born descendants of immigrants are at the forefront of public debate, being subjected to normative integration demands, the book significantly shifts the lens and draws our attention to the daily challenges and realities faced by ethnic minority youth.
