shouldn't they believe he's committed more? For the past year and a half Willem has been an outcast in his hometown. Everyone believes he's a killer. On top of the murder accusations his biofuel fertilizer business is failing. He's well over knee deep in inventory with no chance of a sale in sight. When Murven is out of work, his best buddy volunteers to help him with his daily collection; they discover Willem is stockpiling more than he bargained for as an entrepreneur. Once the sheriff gets involved, Willem's past and Murven's general reputation slingshot them both to the top of the list of murder suspects. With a little help from an unexpected ally, they escape custody and fight to clear their names of murder. As the news spreads, every busybody and media hog in the county, family friend or foe, wants a piece of Willem and Murven's fifteen minutes of infamy.

CLUCKIN' CLUTCH COMMOTION MAX. PARROTT, 2023 The Freaky Fan Mathiya Adams, 2017 Football is back. For those of us who enjoy seeing twenty-two huge muscular men mash it up on a large field, this time of year is a welcome one. Especially for those of us whose baseball team has not fared as well as we had hoped, the prospect of football, where the agony of a loss comes usually only once a week, is inspiring. MacFarland, alas, is not a football fan. Several years on the streets with no access to television or even radio broadcasts effectively weaned him from enjoyment of the sport. So it is surprising when he is approached by a promising young quarterback to help ensure the Broncos do not have a disastrous season. How can MacFarland help? By discouraging a stalker who might bring embarrassment to the team. Unfortunately, when the stalker turns up dead, MacFarland's work is cut out for him. He has to prove that the young quarterback did not kill the stalker. That shouldn't be too hard, since MacFarland himself is one of the suspects in the young lady's death.
