Artificial Intelligence Research and Development Karina Gibert, Enric Plaza, 2018-10-15 It is almost impossible today to find an economic sector or aspect of society which does not involve AI techniques in some way This pervasive technology has become indispensable in a multitude of ways from supporting decision making to managing digital devices such as smart sensors mechanical arms or artificial eyes The ability of AI to emulate intelligence in the resolution of challenging problems has placed it at the centre of problem solving in all areas of our society This book presents contributions from CCIA 2018 the 21st International Conference of the Catalan Association for Artificial Intelligence which took place in Alt Empordà Catalonia Spain on 8-10th October 2018 The book aims to provide a picture of what is being achieved and what is under development in AI today As such its contents represent the diversity of approaches and applications currently being researched but it also presents invited contributions which deal with some of the challenges that will have to be faced in the decade to come The contributions included in this book are organized under the following headings logic satisfiability and fuzzy sets classifiers networks and machine learning data science recommender systems and case based reasoning natural language and sound processing cognitive systems and agents and computer vision and robotics The book also covers a number of current AI challenges and new trends like big data spatial problem solving ethics and AI and how blockchain impacts AI Providing an up to the minute overview of current AI technology and research this book will be of value to all those with an interest in the subject

Social Innovation and Sustainability Transition Geoff Desa, Xiangping Jia, 2022-11-09 This book uses a historical and modern lens to reimagine the role that Extension could potentially play in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies The establishment of statewide extension systems was once seen as a way to ensure that Land Grant Universities would be accessible and responsive to all of a state's residents Extension systems continue to offer a front door to a major public university in almost every county of the United States but they tend to be viewed primarily as a way to translate science or distribute information from the university to the public This book argues for the importance of Extension and shows that we are conceiving of this system too narrowly Only by retelling the stories of the Extension and getting people to see themselves as part of the story can we imagine a different future in which state universities and land grant colleges engage more authentically and equitably in two way relationships with their local constituents in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies Chapter Palatable disruption the politics of plant milk chapter Feeding the melting pot inclusive strategies for the multi ethnic city chapter A carrot isn't a carrot isn't a carrot tracing value in alternative practices of food exchange chapter Virtualizing the good life reworking narratives of agrarianism and the rural idyll in a computer game and chapter Workable utopias for social change through inclusion and empowerment Community supported agriculture CSA in Wales as social innovation are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International license
