Brett Tim's former lover who accuses Doug of having an affair with someone else. Another problem arises when Doug has to fly to his home town because of a death in the family and finally has to confront his mother to tell her that he plans to live with Tim which of course she does not understand. At last things seem to be going pretty well for the two lovers. However Doug receives a phone call that Tim has been in a bad accident and may not survive. Doug has fought the devil before in the form of Brett but now he faces the horrible prospect that the devil may take Tim from him. Maybe Doug's mother was right when she said that sometimes the thing you love the most is taken away from you just so you can grow as a person. What a horrible thought.

Performing Arts, 1981 Live Architecture Robert Kronenburg, 2013-04-15 Live Architecture explores the physical form of popular music performance space from 1960 to the present day. This book quantifies the factors that determine what makes a venue successful focusing on both famous and less well known examples from the smallest barroom music space to the largest stadium filling rock set. It draws on the author's extensive research expertise in the field of temporary and portable architecture in the development of general contemporary architectural design and personal experience of music performance. Including a range of case studies the book analyses some of the most significant popular music venues, events and landmarks in the world. The detail of how a venue is created, how it is constructed and the acoustic and visual environmental factors that impact on its success are examined here. Highly illustrated throughout with design drawings, plans and full colour photographs, this book provides a comprehensive overview of the architecture of live popular music.
