Pauls Letter Collection Tracing The Origins:

Paul's Letter Collection David Trobisch, 2001 In this fascinating book David Trobisch looks at the Pauline letters of the New Testament by examining the oldest manuscripts of the letters of Paul Then he describes characteristic features of the Pauline letters and interprets them in the light of documented editorial practices by comparing them to other published letter collections of the time Cicero Plinius etc He comes to the conclusion that the New Testament collection of Pauline letters is best understood if one assumes that the Apostle Paul himself prepared some of them for publication Romans I II Corinthians and Galatians It is written in accessible language for anyone interested in New Testament scholarship With footnotes tables and illustrations

Dating Acts in its Jewish and Greco-Roman Contexts Karl Leslie Armstrong, 2021-01-14 There has been consistent apathy in recent years with regard to the long standing debate surrounding the date of Acts While the so called majority of scholars over the past century have been lulled into thinking that Acts was written between 70 and 90 CE the vast majority of recent scholarship is unanimously adamant that this middle range date is a convenient political compromise Karl Armstrong argues that a large part of the problem relates to a remarkable neglect of historical textual and source critical matters Compounding the problem further are the methodological flaws among the approaches to the middle and late date of Acts Armstrong thus demonstrates that a historiographical approach to the debate offers a strong framework for evaluating primary and secondary sources relating to the book of Acts By using a historiographical approach along with the support of modern principles of textual criticism and linguistics the historical context of Acts is determined to be concurrent with a date of 62 63 CE
