State Formation After Civil War Derek M Powell, 2016-08-05 State formation after civil war offers a new model for studying the formation of the state in a national peace transition as an integrated national phenomenon Current models of peacebuilding and state building limit that possibility reproducing a fragmented selective view of this complex reality Placing too much emphasis on state building as design they place too little on understanding state formation as unplanned historical process The dominant focus on national institutions also ignores the role that cities and civic polities have played in constituting the modern state Mining ideas from many disciplines and evidence from 19 peace processes including South Africa the book argues that the starting point for building a systematic theory is to explain a distinct pattern to state formation that can be observed in practice Despite their conflicts people in fragile societies bargain terms for peaceful coexistence they make attempts to constitute the right to rule as valid state authority in circumstances prone to conflict over which they have imperfect influence not control Though the kind of institutions created will differ with context how rules for state authority are institutionalized follows a consistent basic pattern That pattern defines state formation in peace transitions as both a unified if contingent field of normative practice and an object of comparative study Where the national centric models see local government as a matter belonging to policy on decentralization for later in the reconstruction phase the book uncovers a distinct local government dimension to peace transitions A civic dimension to national conflicts that must be explained incipient or proto local authorities that emerge even during civil war in peace making after state collapse the fact that it is common for peace agreements and constitutions to include rules for local authority for local elections to be held as part of broader democratization and for laws to be enacted to establish local government as part of peace compacts The book develops the concept of local peace transition to explain the distinctive constitutive role of this local dimension in peace making and state formation This path breaking book will be of compelling interest to practitioners scholars and students of comparative constitutional studies international law peace building and state building Globalization Prof.

Steger, 2023-12-04 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press s Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminoso.org to learn more Since the end of the Cold War globalization the process and the idea has been reshaping the world Global studies scholarship has emerged to make sense of the transnational manifestations of globalization economic social cultural ideological technological environmental and postcolonial But a series of crises in the first two decades of the twenty first century has put the neoliberal globalization system of the 1990s under severe strain Are we witnessing a turn toward deglobalization intensified by the COVID 19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine or a moment of reglobalization spearheaded by digital technology The contributors to this book employ transdisciplinary research to assess past developments the current state and future trajectories of globalization in light of today s dynamics of insecurity volatility and geopolitical tensions Transatlantic Trends in Democracy

Promotion Dr Rouba Al-Fattal Eeckelaert, 2013-02-28 How did the EU US and Canada decide and implement their electoral assistance in the Palestinian Territories PT Why did the EU the US and Canada embark on assisting the elections in the PT and what factors influenced their electoral assistance What lessons can be learned for other countries approaching elections after a long period of conflict This book answers these questions and charts the process of electoral assistance with an in depth analysis of each transatlantic actor s electoral assistance in the PT It shows that despite the many institutional and operational differences between the EU the US and Canada the three actors do share common interests and influencing factors which often unify their response The book also reveals the limitations facing electoral assistance and the implications of this on the sustainability clarity consistency and responsiveness of the policy In this systematic comparative analysis of European American and Canadian efforts to assist elections and transform governance in conflict zones Rouba Al Fattal greatly advances the empirical knowledge of electoral assistance and provides the first steps needed to reform electoral assistance policy to cope with the challenges of the twenty first century De Gruyter Handbook of Political Parties of the Global South Lise Storm, 2026-03-15 The De Gruyter Handbook of Political Parties in the Global South provides a survey of the literature that illuminates a worrying blind spot in current research While our knowledge of parties and parliamentary democracies in the West is rich and nuanced the same cannot be said about parties in the Global South This handbook defines what constitutes a party in practice beyond the borders of the West and the confines of Western academia particular in non democratic states It analyzes parties way of organizing and their relationship with society With contributions by leading scholars in the field as well as up and coming scholars this volume examines parties in the Global South from various perspectives and in the eyes of both the citizenry and the state Political Parties in Post-Uprising Tunisia and Morocco Giulia Cimini, 2023-03-31 This book offers a comparative theory grounded study of Maghrebi political parties since the Arab uprisings specifically focused on Tunisia and Morocco in the first decade after the 2011 watershed elections Based on primary sources including in depth interviews and updated party statutes and bylaws the author introduces four case studies of key Islamist and anti Islamist parties exploring their organisational standing internal working and legitimating assets By dwelling into a topic long neglected the author provides insight into the hybrid nature of political parties in the Maghreb oscillating between juxtaposed traditional and modern discourses and ambivalent sources of political authority As such it is hybridisation that shapes parties organisational choices and development and accounts for differences within parties In the wake of political liberalisation the author argues that political parties have become increasingly distant from society distrusted by a large part of the citizenry Ultimately the Tunisian and Moroccan cases invite reflection on similar phenomena taking place within the Middle East and North Africa region and even outside of it Bridging disparate disciplines including comparative politics area studies and contemporary Middle Eastern history the book will be of interest to a broad range of graduate level students and academics Governance in the Middle East, North Africa, and Western Balkans United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Affairs, 2008 The prosperity and well being of people across the Mediterranean region depend very much on good governance Understanding the challenges each country faces and the priorities in reforming public administration is the first step towards more coordinated action to strengthen government institutions processes and human resource capacities The publication provides an overview of governance and public administration in selected countries It identifies assesses and analyses relevant needs and challenges as well as priorities for change and innovation in government at the local national and regional levels This book is the result of the combined efforts of more than 60 national and international experts and government officials whose informed perspectives and feedback have shaped the respective chapters

An Overview of the Arab Security Sector Amidst Political Transition, 2013 The objective of this paper is to highlight the crucial importance of security sector reform during the challenging time of democratic transition Many security services in Arab countries do not utilize modern management practices or computer based administrative systems and lack human resources and career development departments let alone an inspector general's office to ensure discipline or an internal affairs section to address public complaints This paper argues that any sustainable governance reform of the social contract in Arab countries in transition is inextricably linked to a new concept of the security sector based on good governance principles that could permeate a new political consensus profound institutional reforms and a new legal framework Security services in these countries must change to serve the public rather than the political interest For the purpose of accountability efficiency and professionalism and in order to create a culture of institutionalization civilian oversight of the security sector is essential For their part new civilian leaders must ensure that the security sector receives proper equipment and an adequate budget particularly for salaries and training Security sector reform in the Arab region must be a cultural and ideological discussion rather than a merely technical one Publisher's description

Journal of Peacebuilding & Development, 2006 Reform in the Middle East Oil Monarchies Anoushiravan Ehteshami, Steven M. Wright, 2008 The oil rich monarchies of the Arabian Peninsula are frequently dismissed as having no democratic systems compared to most other regions of the world Indeed the United States justified its action in Iraq by proclaiming that democracy and freedom must be adopted both in Iraq and throughout the wider Middle East in order to counter the conditions which breed international terrorism It has been argued that the countries of the Arabian Peninsula need to provide a system of democratic representation that fully takes into account their own history and culture This raises many questions Can their firmly established tradition of rule provide the basis for the evolution of an Arab form of constitutional monarchy Should the West be seeking to encourage national indigenous evolution rather than working to impose Western systems What are the risks of change and what has been achieved so far This book addresses these issues and examines the drivers progress and challenges for future change in this vitally strategic area of the world

Democratic Transition in Kenya Abdalla Bujra, 2005 Markets, Coalitions and Institutions Moonhawk Kim, 2005 Linking Conflict Diagnosis, Conflict Prevention, and Conflict Management in Contemporary Africa J. 'Bayo Adekanye, 2007 The East African Journal of Human Rights and Democracy, 2004-03 Transition Newsletter, 2003 African Governance Report III 2013, 2013 The African Governance Report the most comprehensive report on governance in Africa assesses and monitors the progress of African countries on governance identifies capacity gaps in governance institutions and proposes policies and strategic interventions to improve governance on the continent This third edition of the Report while continuing to monitor governance trends adopts a thematic approach elections and the management of diversity in Africa Elections are central to democratic governance and the political management of diversity in plural societies While elections are held with greater regularity in Africa their content and quality remains suspect in many countries with Africa's rich diversity deployed as a combustible tool in electoral conflicts Elections have often triggered conflict with violence tensions acrimony and sharp elite divisions surrounding electoral processes and outcomes a worrying trend for Africa's democratic future The Report investigates elections in the face of managing diversity in Africa It recommends major electoral institutional political and constitutional reforms to enable elections to facilitate the democratic management of diversity while significantly improving their quality and credibility These include reform of the party system to make it more inclusive and democratic a move to more proportional electoral systems and an increase in the autonomy and effectiveness of election management boards The Report argues that regional and subregional initiatives and frameworks for elections democracy and governance have to be implemented and monitored to improve electoral performance and promote democratic consolidation and stability Page 4 of cover Arab Middle Class, 2014
