Book Blue Territory Meditation Life Mitchell:

BLUE TERRITORY Robin Lippincott, 2023-03-22 Blue Territory is a poetic immersion into the life and art of Joan Mitchell the great American abstract expressionist painter A contemporary of Jackson Pollock and Willem De Kooning she is not as well known as her male counterparts because she was a woman and also because she spent most of her working life in France Still in 2013 Bloomsburg Business listed Mitchell as the bestselling female artist of all time When asked to talk about her paintings Joan Mitchell often responded If I could say it in words I d write a book Here is her book At once unique and universal Blue Territory is at its core an exploration of love and life and what it means to love and live what you do Meticulously researched and lyrically written it will appeal to anyone interested in passionate engagement with the world The book eschews images so as to allow the words to form them thereby freeing the reader to imagine the paintings much as Mitchell would have to do before picking up her brush Frank O'Hara and MoMA Matthew Holman, 2025-08-07 This is the first book to closely examine the curatorial work that the celebrated poet Frank O Hara 1926 1966 undertook for the Museum of Modern Art in New York and abroad Upon his premature death the New York Times obituary ran with the headline Frank O Hara 40 Museum Curator Exhibitions Aide at Modern Art Dies Also a Poet However in the half a century since O Hara s fascinating career as a curator where he oversaw exhibitions of the likes of Jackson Pollock Helen Frankenthaler David Smith and Larry Rivers among others has been eclipsed by the critical attention given over to his poetry Drawing on a broad range of unpublished archival material the book reveals the impact O Hara s curatorial work had both on the reception of American modern art abroad and on the curatorial profession itself It focuses on his travelling exhibitions for MoMA s International Program a vehicle for soft power during the fraught years of the cultural Cold War exposing him to new art artists and cities while developing important transnational networks far from New York from Madrid to Venice Zagreb to Otterlo Bringing together close readings of O Hara s poems and unpublished letters with a selection of archival illustrations Holman argues for O Hara s sense of exuberant continuity between life as a writer and a curator an American and a cosmopolitan revealing that he was so much more besides the quintessential New York poet It is perfect reading for anyone interested in American art in the mid 20th century curatorial and museum studies or simply this lesser known but fascinating aspect of the legendary poet s career Making the Invisible Real Catherine Hartmann, 2025-05-09 How can a person learn to see a mountain as a divine mandala especially when to the ordinary eye the mountain looks like a pile of rocks and snow This is the challenge that the Tibetan pilgrimage tradition poses to pilgrims who are told to overcome their ordinary perception to see the hidden reality of the holy mountain Drawing on multiple genres of Tibetan literature from the 13th to 20th centuries including foundational narratives of holy places polemical debates about the value of pilgrimage written guides to holy sites advice texts and personal diaries this book investigates how the pilgrimage tradition tries to transform pilgrims perception so that they might experience the wondrous sacred landscape as real and materially present

Catherine Anne Hartmann argues that the pilgrimage tradition does not simply assume that pilgrims experience this sacred landscape as real but instead leads pilgrims to adopt deliberate practices of seeing ways of looking at and interacting with the world that shape their experience of the holy mountain Making the Invisible Real explores two ways of seeing the pilgrims s ordinary perception of the world and the fantastic vision believed to lie beyond this ordinary perception As pilgrims move through the holy place they move back and forth between these two ways of seeing weaving the ordinary perceived world and extraordinary imagined world together into a single experience Hartmann shows us how seemingly fantastical religious worldviews are not simply believed or taken for granted but actively constructed and reconstructed for new generations of practitioners
