Palliative Care In General Practice:

Oxford Textbook of Palliative Medicine Geoffrey W. C. Hanks, 2011-07-21 Emphasising the multi disciplinary nature of palliative care the fourth edition of this text also looks at the individual professional roles that contribute to the best quality palliative care

Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care Max Watson, Caroline Lucas, Andrew Hoy, Jo Wells, 2009-03-26 The Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care covers all aspects of palliative care in a concise and succinct format suited to busy professionals who need to access key information in their daily care of patients This new edition is revised throughout with an additional emphasis on the nursing aspects of Palliative Care The authors have included new sections on international palliative care self care and liaison palliative care in acute hospitals There is also extended material on the use of antibiotics palliative care research and quality of life issues The second edition of the Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care continues to be an invaluable resource for all health professionals working with adults children and families with palliative care needs

Applying Linguistics in Illness and Healthcare Contexts Zsófia Demjén, 2020-04-16 All aspects of illness and healthcare are mediated by language experiences of illness death and healthcare provision are talked and written about face to face or online while medical consultations research interviews public health communications and even some diagnostic instruments are all inherently linguistic in nature How we talk to about and for each other in such a sensitive context has consequences for our relationships our sense of self how we understand and reason about our health as well as for the quality care we receive Yet linguistic analysis has been conspicuously absent from the mainstream of medical education health communication training and even the medical or health humanities The chapters in this volume bring together applied linguistic work using discourse analysis corpus methods conversation analysis metaphor analysis cognitive linguistics multiculturalism research interactional sociolinguistics narrative analysis and im politeness to make sense of a variety of international healthcare contexts and situations These include clinician patient interactions receptionist patient interactions online support forums online counselling public health communication media representations medical accounts diagnostic tools and definitions research interviews with doctors and patients The volume demonstrates how linguistic analysis can not only improve understandings of the lived experience of different illnesses but also has implications for communications training disease prevention treatment and self management the effectiveness of public health messaging access to appropriate care professional mobility and professional terminology among others

Oxford Textbook of Palliative Medicine Nathan Cherny, Marie Fallon, Stein Kaasa, Russell K. Portenoy, David C. Currow, 2015-04-30 The definitive Oxford Textbook of Palliative Medicine now in its fifth edition has again been thoroughly updated to offer a truly global perspective in this field of extraordinary talent and thoughtfulness Updated to include new sections devoted to assessment tools care of patients with cancer and the management of issues in the very young and the very old this leading textbook covers all the new and emerging topics since its original publication in 1993 In addition the multi disciplinary nature of palliative care is emphasized throughout the book covering areas from ethical and communication issues the treatment of symptoms and the management of pain This fifth edition of the Oxford Textbook of Palliative Medicine is dedicated to the memory of Professor Geoffrey Hanks pioneer in the field of palliative medicine and co editor of the previous four editions Winner in the Medicine category of the British Medical Association Book Awards this is a truly comprehensive text no hospital hospice palliative care service or medical library should be without this essential source of information

Palliative care for older people Lieve Van den Block,Gwenda Albers,Sandra Martins Pereira,Bregje Onwuteaka-Philipsen,Roeline Pasman,Luc Deliens,2015-05-07 Current projections indicate that by 2050 the number of people aged over 80 years old will rise to 395 million and that by this date 25 30% of people over the age of 85 will show some degree of cognitive decline Palliative care for older people A public health perspective provides a comprehensive account of the current state of palliative care for older people worldwide and illustrates the range of concomitant issues that as the global population ages will ever more acutely shape the decisions of policy makers and care givers The book begins by outlining the range of policies towards palliative care for older people that are found worldwide It follows this by examining an array of socio cultural issues and palliative care initiatives from the care implications of health trajectories of older people to the spiritual requirements of palliative care patients and from the need to encourage compassion towards end of life care within communities to the development of care pathways for older people Palliative care for older people A public health perspective is a valuable resource for professionals and academics in a range of healthcare and public health fields to understand the current state of policy work from around the world The book also highlights the social cultural considerations that influence the difficult decisions that those involved in palliative care face not least patients themselves and offers examples of good practice and recommendations to inspire support and direct healthcare policy and decision making at organisational regional national and international levels

Teamwork in Palliative Care Robin Hull,Mary Ellis,Vicki Sargent,1989

Hospice and Palliative Care Denice C. Sheehan,Walter B. Forman,1996 Hospice and palliative care has evolved around the world as a method of caring that uniquely meets the needs of patients and their caregivers Hospice and Palliative Care Concepts and Practice offers theoretical perspectives and practical information about this growing field Contributors from varied disciplines including community medical care geriatric care nursing care pain management research counseling and hospice management provide the broad professional approach so critical to quality palliative care

Palliative Care Geoff Mitchell,2018-05-08 Series Editors Moira Stewart Judith Belle Brown and Thomas R Freeman As the population in western cultures ages more people suffer chronic ultimately life limiting diseases and medical professionals need to be equipped to cope with the ever growing pressure of palliative care This book gives guidance on how to approach patients with life limiting illness While the problems most people present to the doctor appear relatively straightforward a whole person approach to understanding the complex interaction between the person their illness and their environment should lead to a more complete consideration of the illness and better health outcomes For issues of palliative care such an approach is essential to identify and meet the many needs of desperately ill people Palliative Care offers a fresh look at the management of patients With international evidence based contributions the book suggests practical and challenging ways to care for the dying It is ideal for all healthcare professionals working in palliative care General Practitioners and medicine and healthcare students Journal of Palliative Care ,2004 Address ... at ... Manchester, June 30th, 1880. (Palliative medicine and palliative treatment in surgical cases). Edward Lund,1880 Professional Education for General Practice Peter Havelock,1995 Vocational training for general practice has been tremendously successful over the past two decades but the need became apparent at the beginning of the 1990s for revision of the education of GP trainers already experienced in setting up a training practice who were demanding a fresh more detailed consideration of the educational aspects of vocational training The authors of Professional Education for General Practice comprise general practitioners from training practices regional advisers in primary care and an expert in adult education They describe the history of vocational training and examine the educational requirements of adult learners then go on to discuss particular aspects of curriculum design assessment teaching methods trainer trainee relationships and evaluation followed by an appraisal of what changes are needed in training for general practice in the future Throughout the preparation of the book the authors worked closely with general practice trainers and trainees as well as their educators thus ensuring that the book is completely appropriate for these groups This book is essential for everyone involved in teaching GP trainers as well as for the trainers themselves and will be of interest to doctors training in primary care

Psycho-oncology Jimmie C. Holland,2015 Originally published by Oxford in 1998 Psycho Oncology was the first comprehensive text in the field and remains the gold standard today Edited by a team of leading experts in psycho oncology spearheaded by Dr Jimmie C Holland the founder of the field the text reflects the interdisciplinary nature and global reach of this growing field Thoroughly updated and developed in collaboration with the American Psychosocial Society and the International Psycho oncology Society the third edition is a current comprehensive reference for psychiatrists psychologists oncologists hospice workers and social workers seeking to understand and manage the psychological issues involved in the care of persons with cancer and the psychological social and behavioral factors that contribute to cancer risk and survival New to this edition are chapters on gender based and geriatric issues and expanded coverage of underserved populations community based programs and caregiver training and education EBOOK Clinical Cases for General Practice Exams WEARNE,2019-09-02 EBOOK Clinical Cases for General Practice Exams System, of Treatment by Many Writers: General Medicine and Surgery ,1917 Stomatology in General Practice Henry Percy Pickerill,1912 Collaborative Practice in Palliative Care Dave Roberts,Laura Green,2021-09-20 Collaborative Practice in Palliative Care explores how different professions work collaboratively across professional institutional social and cultural boundaries to enhance palliative care Analysing palliative care as an interaction between different professionals clients and carers and the social context or community within which the interaction takes place it is grounded in up to date evidence includes global aspects of palliative care and cultural diversity as themes running throughout the book and is replete with examples of good and innovative practice Drawing on experiences from within traditional specialist palliative care settings like hospices and community palliative care services as well as more generalist contexts of the general hospital and primary care this practical text highlights the social or public health model of palliative care Designed to support active learning it includes features such as case studies summaries and pointers to other learning resources This text is an important reference for all professionals engaged in palliative care particularly those studying for post qualification programmes in the area

Research Methods and Audit in General Practice David Armstrong, John Grace, 1994 Many of those working in primary care wish to conduct research in their own practice but lack the confidence and knowledge needed to set up manage and publish a research project The authors of this book who have wide experience of carrying out research in the general practice setting have developed this book as a practical resource for research in primary care This superbly written book will guide all members of the primary care team through the research process from the initial idea through project design and write up to final publication It explains clearly the purpose and implementation of the clinical epidemiological and social research techniques that will be the most useful and includes practical questions and exercises to ensure that the significance of each technique has been fully understood The second edition of this successful book has been fully updated and revised throughout and has new chapters covering audit and use of the Epi Info data analysis facility for exploring general practice data

Evaluation of Palliative Care in a Danish General Practice Anne Mette Larsen, 2017 Background Most terminally ill patients wish to die at home and this requires specific competences in end of life care amongst general practitioners Aim The aim of the study was to quantify and evaluate the palliative trajectories in a Danish general practice that has systematically followed patients with palliative needs over the last five years Hypothesis Number of home deaths including nursing homes over a three year period was expected to be larger than the national average from 2016 49% Methods All patients affiliated with a large approx 6500 patients Danish 4 doctor general practice located in a Copenhagen suburb who died between 1 1 2015 and 31 7 2018 were identified Patients without available relevant information from the medical record and patients who died by accident or suicide were excluded The following variables were extracted from the patient files age gender diagnosis place of death preferred and actual number and type of clinical contacts consultation phone e mail during the last four months of life the use of palliative medication and subcutaneous needle and any specialised palliative care The study has been approved by the Danish patient safety committee j nr 3 3013 2592 1 Results 180 patients were included in the study The mean age at time of death was 76 5 years and 99 56% were women Nine ty patients 50% died at home or at a nursing home 77 patients 43% died at a hospital Two sample test of proportions showed no significant difference p 0 05 in home death as compared to the national 2016 data Conclusion The number of home deaths in the study population 50% was not significantly different from the national average 49% The reason for no change in home death rate may be due to a different distribution of important variables in the study population This will be further explored in the final results presented at the 2019 EAPC congress
