Leading in the 21st Century Tshilidzi Marwala, 2021-01-04 It became apparent to me that due to the complexity of problems that face humanity today those who do not know should not lead Professor Tshilidzi Marwala In 2020 the world found itself in a state of flux A global pandemic disrupted the world order while the digital transformation of the Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR with its challenges and huge potential benefits presented a fundamental paradigm shift How are Africa's leaders to respond today In a crisis decisive leadership is imperative for the public good but as we move beyond the pandemic and confront the changes of the 4IR we must determine how we will adapt What is clear is that leadership will have to be grounded in scientific and mathematical thinking and in good governance It follows then that for South Africa to succeed as a nation in the 21st century we must be able to provide our people with an all embracing education not just science and technology but human and social sciences as well Leading in the 21st Century presents a comprehensive overview of how the world is changing and lessons we can draw from leaders particularly in the African context From Charlotte Maxeke and the Rain Queen Modjadji to Mangaliso Robert Sobukwe Eric Molobi and Richard Maponya there is much to learn from great leaders The challenges of the 21st century are immense from climate change to social media and the digital divide that deepens our understanding of inequality particularly in the new normal South Africa faces not only a shifting global context but a fraught local context of stagnant growth rising unemployment and deep seated inequality worsened in 2020 by the national lockdown necessitated by the coronavirus pandemic The 4IR offers solutions to many of our most pressing problems and we cannot afford to be left behind The certainty is that the 4IR has arrived The debates lie in how we respond to it Tshilidzi Marwala deciphers it all while providing a framework for navigating these shifts A leading academic of international standing and Deputy Chair of South Africa's Presidential 4IR Commission Tshilidzi Marwala provides valuable insights into how leadership should be responding to the digital challenges of the 21st century

Black Friday Robert Muchamore, 2013-09-05 The fifteenth title in the number one bestselling CHERUB series Ryan is about to board a plane knowing that the next twenty four hours will change everything His mission is to stop the biggest terrorist attack America's ever seen Ryan works for CHERUB a secret organisation with one key advantage even a trained terrorist won't suspect that a teenager is spying on them. For official purposes these children do not exist. Black Friday Alex Kava, 2019-03-11 Plunge into a thrilling adventure tracking domestic terrorists in book 7 of the acclaimed Maggie O'Dell series from New York Times bestselling author Alex Kava. On the busiest shopping day of the year a group of idealistic college students believe they're about to carry out an elaborate media stunt at the largest mall in America. They think the equipment in their backpacks will disrupt stores' computer systems causing delays and chaos disrupting capitalism if only for a moment. What they don't realize is that instead of jamming devices their backpacks contain explosives. And they're about to become unwitting suicide bombers. FBI profiler Maggie O'Dell must put her own political troubles aside to work with Nick Morrelli and figure out who's behind this terrorist plot a massacre that's all the more frightening when a tip reveals that Maggie's brother is one of the doomed protestors. Originally published in 2009.

Headlines That Matter Kavita Chandran, Saldene Lyte, 2025 Not every news announcement grabs a financial trader's attention prompting them to initiate a buy or sell call. Glued to their screens every day traders are alerted to important information by journalists who work with news agencies such as Reuters, Bloomberg, Associated Press and Dow Jones to name a few. American wires or regional wire services such as Agence France Presse, AFP, Press Trust of India, PTI or Algemeen Nederlands Persbureau, ANP. The urgent news flashes come from journalists who have impeccable news judgement along with the ability to think and write at great speed. What is it that these journalists look for in company press releases, remarks by political leaders or comments by central bankers? How do they evaluate corporate scandals and communications on sensitive social and political issues? What about food recalls, labor disputes and supply chain problems? Why do markets react to such headlines and news updates? Using many recent examples of headlines that influenced the markets, two former Bloomberg headline writers reveal the workings and thought processes of an adrenaline-packed team which caters to those who deal with money matters within seconds day in and day out. The insights in this book benefit students of both business journalism and finance as well as CEOs, corporate communications directors and wealth managers, investors and traders.

Sociology of Waiting Paul Christopher Price, 2021-05-04 In Sociology of Waiting Paul Christopher Price investigates how people wait and analyzes what individuals do while waiting. It is a key feature within U.S. and other societies; waiting is universal. Sociologically, waiting gets at order and our ability or inability to pause. Crowds cannot rush into concert venues and supermarket clerks cannot check out customers simultaneously. So we must wait. In all our waiting, we've developed strategies and structures for delays, and such methods and structures provide order as well as understanding. We recognize why we wait. The sociology of waiting is a classic piece of everyday sociology, a timeless piece of routine behavior. Waiting is as natural as breathing, eating, and drinking; indeed, mothers wait nine months before infants are brought to term, and summer will always follow spring. Waiting provides its own lessons. That is, watching cars weave through traffic and receive citations by police, we learn that waiting may have saved time and money. Shining the light on waiting permits a far superior understanding of order and how our society organizes itself around taking turns. Waiting is a matter that takes up much of our valuable time and resources; consequently, reducing wait time has become big business.
