Petticoat Heroes Rhian E. Jones,2015-11-20 The first book on Rebecca Riots since 1989 The book looks at the Rebecca riots protest movement in Victorian Wales in a context informed by not only British and European historiography but also other disciplines including literature and anthropology The book is informed by recent work in cultural and gender history which it applies for the first time to the symbolic and ritual content of the protests The book s epilogue discusses historical protest in the context of the contemporary resurgence of leaderless extra parliamentary protest around the world including Occupy Anonymous and anti austerity movements Dr William Price Dean Powell,2012-09-15 Surgeon Archdruid Chartist William Price established the first co operative society and was involved in a crown court trial that led to the passing of the Cremation Act of 1902 The full story of one of the most colourful characters in Welsh history People, Protest and

Politics David Egan,1987 Glamorgan Society Prys Morgan,1988 Culture, Politics, and National Identity in Wales 1832-1886 Matthew Cragoe,2004-06-17 This detailed scholarly exploration of Welsh political culture in the 19th century offers a new interpretation of the rise of nationalism The author shows how the focus of legitimate power in the community shifted from the aristocracy to the urban middle classes Glamorgan County History Prys Morgan,1988 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1996 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Labour and the Poor in England and Wales,

1849-1851 Jules Ginswick,2017-09-25 First Published in 1983 In October 1849 a London newspaper the Morning Chronicle announced to its middle class readers that it was to undertake a survey of the condition of the labouring classes in England and Wales under the general title of Labour and the Poor The reports of the survey were published over a period of two years and provided the mid nineteenth century Englishman with the most comprehensive view of the working classes that he had ever seen The letters to The Morning Chronicle from the manufacturing mining and rural districts and the towns of Liverpool and Birmingham appear here for the first time in book form and have been organised in eight volumes This is Volume I and offer insights into labour and the poor in England and Wales 1849 to 1851 in the areas of Lancashire Cheshire and Yorkshire

Labour and the Poor in England and Wales, 1849-1851: Lancashire, Cheshire, Yorkshire Jules Ginswick,1983 The letters to The Morning chronicle from the correspondents in the manufacturing and mining districts the towns of Liverpool and Birmingham and the rural districts [REDACTED] [REDACTED],2015-09-09 Labour and the Poor in England and Wales - The letters to The Morning Chronicle from the Correspondants in the Manufacturing and Mining Districts, the Towns of Liverpool and Birmingham, and the Rural Districts J. Ginswick,2016-09-13 The Morning Chronicle presented the state of the working classes of Britain before the public with clarity insight and honesty Consisting mainly of verbatim statements from the people themselves it was a medium through which the previously inarticulate masses were able to speak with one firm voice First published in 1983 this book collates the letters from correspondents based in Lancashire Cheshire and Yorkshire The letters improve our knowledge of working class life in nineteenth century England and Wales and provide a unique insight into the impact of industrialization This book will be of interest to those studying the history of the working class labour and poverty Class and Community in Provincial Ireland, 1851-1914 Brian Casey, 2018-04-26 This book explores the experience of small farmers labourers and graziers in provincial Ireland from the immediacy of the Famine until the eve of World War One During this period of immense social and political change they came to grips with the processes of modernisation By focusing upon east Galway it argues that they were not an inarticulate mass but rather they were sophisticated and politically aware in their own right This study relies upon a wide array of sources which have been utilised to give as authentic a voice to the lower classes as possible Their experiences have been largely unrecorded and this book redresses this imbalance in historiography while adding a new nuanced understanding of the complexities of class relations in provincial Ireland This book argues that the actions of the rural working class and nationalists has not been fully understood supporting E P Thompson s argument that their aspirations were valid in terms of their own experiences

People, Protest and Politics Gareth Elwyn Jones, 1987 Crime, Courts and Community in Mid-Victorian Wales Rachael Jones, 2018-05-15 Focuses on the key feature of women s experience in an area often overlooked by crime historians but that is becoming more popular with the modern attention paid to women s history The book is written in an accessible way which will be appealing to undergraduates and postgraduates The focus on Wales the Welsh and Welsh language and immigration will contribute to contemporary investigations Crime, Protest, Community, and Police in Nineteenth-Century Britain David Jones, 2015-08-20 This study first published in 1982 is concerned with the nature of crime in nineteenth century Britain and explores the response of the community and the police authorities Each chapter is linked by common themes and questions and the topics described in detail range from popular forms of rural crime and protest through crime in industrial and urban communities to a study of the vagrant The author pays special attention to the relationship between illegal activities and protest and emphasizes the context and complexity of official crime rates and of many forms of criminal behaviour This title will be of interest to students of history and criminology The Pedagogy of Protest Brendan Walsh, 2007 This book provides the first complete account of Patrick Pearse s educational work at St Enda s and St Ita s schools Dublin Extensive use of first hand accounts reveals Pearse as a humane energetic teacher and a forward looking and innovative educational thinker Between 1903 and 1916 Pearse developed a new concept of schooling as an agency of radical pedagogical and social reform later echoed by school founders such as Bertrand Russell This placed him firmly within the tradition of radical educational thought as articulated by Paulo Freire and Henry Giroux The book examines the tension between Pearse s work and his increasingly public profile as an advocate of physical force separatism and by employing previously unknown accounts questions the perception that he influenced his students to become active supporters of militant separatism The book describes the later history of St Enda s revealing the ambivalence of post independence administrations and shows how Pearse's work which has long been neglected by historians has had a direct influence on a later generation of school founders up to the present Claiming the Streets Paul O'Leary, 2012-10-15 Street processions were a defining feature of life in the Victorian town. They were diverse in character and took place regularly throughout the year in all towns. They provided opportunities for men and women to display themselves in public carrying banners and flags and accompanied by musical bands. Much of the history of nineteenth century Wales has been written around political demonstrations and revolt but this book examines how urban communities in Victorian Wales created inclusive civic identities by using the streets for peaceful processions.
