The People of the Ruins Edward Shanks,1920 The Radical Twenties John Lucas,1999 Studies writers from the 1920s with regard to their political radicalism Draws on the works of D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf Sylvia Townsend Warner and Patrick Hamilton among others to identify the decade as a time of both political activism and of deliberately transgressive behavior particularly among women Meets head on the argument of earlier commentators who take for granted the post war decade as defined by cynicism and hedonism and looks at the work and lifestyles of those determined to find ways out of despair

The Invention of Prehistory Stefanos Geroulanos,2024-04-02 A n incisive and captivating reassessment of prehistory In lucid prose Geroulanos unspools an enthralling and detailed history of the development of modern natural science It s a must read Publishers Weekly starred review An astute powerfully rendered history of humanity Kirkus Reviews starred review An eminent historian tells the story of how we came to obsess over the origins of humanity and how for three centuries ideas of prehistory have been used to justify devastating violence against others Books about the origins of humanity dominate bestseller lists while national newspapers present breathless accounts of new archaeological findings and speculate about what those findings tell us about our earliest ancestors We are obsessed with prehistory and in this respect our current era is no different from any other in the last three hundred years In this coruscating work acclaimed historian Stefanos Geroulanos demonstrates how claims about the earliest humans not only shaped Western intellectual culture but gave rise to our modern world The very idea that there was a human past before recorded history only emerged with the Enlightenment when European thinkers began to reject faith based notions of humanity and history in favor of supposedly more empirical ideas about the world From the state of nature and Romantic notions of virtuous German barbarians to theories about Neanderthals killer apes and a matriarchal paradise where women ruled Geroulanos captures the sheer variety and strangeness of the ideas that animated many of the major thinkers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries including Jean Jacques Rousseau Charles Darwin and Karl Marx Yet as Geroulanos shows such ideas became for the most part the ideological foundations of repressive regimes and globe spanning empires Deeming other peoples savages allowed for guilt free violence against them notions of killer apes who were our evolutionary predecessors made war seem natural The emergence of modern science only accelerated the West s imperialism The Nazi obsession with race was rooted in archaeological claims about prehistoric IndoGermans the idea that colonized peoples could be bombed back to the Stone Age was made possible by the technology of flight and the anthropological idea that civilization advanced in stages As Geroulanos argues accounts of prehistory tell us more about the moment when they are proposed than about the deep past and if we hope to start improving our future we would be better off setting aside the search for how it all started A necessary timely indelible account of how the quest for understanding the origins of humanity became the handmaiden of war and empire The Invention of Prehistory will forever change how we think about the deep past Scribner's Magazine ... ,1920
