Perception And Lighting As Formgivers For Architecture:

Perception and Lighting as Formgivers for Architecture William M. C. Lam, 1977 Perception and lighting; as formgivers for architecture W.M.C. Lam, 1992 Sunlighting as Formgiver for Architecture William M. C. Lam, 1986
Donated Lighting by Design Christopher Cuttle, 2008-10-23 Lighting by Design provides guidance on where to find inspiration for lighting ideas how to plan the technical detail and how to execute the plan to create safe effective and beautiful schemes Christopher Cuttle's unique three level approach uses Observation Visualisation and Realisation as the means to achieve these aims Cuttle is a well known figure in the UK US and Australia and New Zealand with a wealth of experience of both teaching and practice This new edition is fully updated and produced in full colour with many new diagrams and photographs It will be immensely useful to professional and student architects interior designers and specialist lighting designers Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert M. Lechner, 2014-09-23 Sustainable environmental control through building design Heating Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating cooling and lighting This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics Resources include helpful case studies checklists diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases an image bank and instructor materials Designing buildings that require less energy to heat cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems Basic design decisions regarding size orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability cost and comfort of a building Heating Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project Readers will Understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control

Daylight Design of Buildings Nick Baker, Koen Steemers, 2014-01-02 To complement the critical and objective view gleaned from the study of some sixty buildings this design manual has been developed to provide a more synthetic approach to the principles which lie behind successful daylight design These principles are illustrated with examples drawn from the case study buildings The emphasis throughout has been on practical methods to improve design rather than techniques studied for any intrinsic interest The book provides the necessary tools to assist the designer to provide well daylit interiors and shows that good daylight design is not a restriction on architectural expression but on the contrary acts as an inspiration and foundation for good architecture

Light: The Shape of Space Lou Michel, 1995-10-27

Light The Shape of Space Designing with Space and Light Lou Michel Every design professional who touches a space shapes the light and the feeling of that space Architect lighting engineer interior designer lighting or home furnishing manufacturer each contributes an aesthetic layer sometimes yielding unexpected results All too often the best laid plans of one professional are unintentionally subverted by another Removing surprises and guess work from design Lou Michel honored architectural lighting educator has created Light The Shape of Space showing how to design with the effects of light rather than light itself The book is a revolutionary resource for all design professionals and manufacturers of surfacing materials Drawing on over fifteen years experience of research and teaching in the architectural Space and Light Laboratory at The University of Kansas Michel masterfully examines the interrelationship of lighting and the design of architectural space as perceived not in architectural photos or paint chips and fabric swatches but by human vision the gateway to emotional response The book was written for professionals who care about how people feel in the spaces they design and focuses on the humanization of architecture Taking a non stylistic approach to design Michel analyzes architecture from the perspective of how the users see their surroundings as they move through space The reader will learn what pleases and what disturbs people based on how the human visual system responds to color texture pattern and brightness The book features principles of design for the student and professional and is generously supported by illustrations and research Michel also provides a method for evaluating the visual effectiveness of building materials and lighting systems including those that will appear on the market long after this book is dog eared Michel unveils a groundbreaking luminance brightness rating system LBR and a nine zone brightness scale to aid designers in previsualizing the appearance of surfacing materials at every stage of the design process from schematics to development to refinement Among the topics treated are the interaction of lighting and spatial design color theory for space and light the luminance relationships between free standing objects and the surrounding spatial boundaries against which they are seen the appearance of building materials in color and brightness when modified by light and spatial location lighting spatial connections including the perception of rooms adjacent to the observer lighting and perception of spaces screened by architectural grilles creating lighted space Designing with the effects of light is both an art and a science No other book on the market bridges that gap as successfully as Light The Shape of Space

Lighting Design & Application, 1979

The Room in Context Katherine F. Benzel, 1998 Nature is the prototype in which all parts from the microscopic to the cosmic are interdependent in a complex symphony of form and function Benzel draws on the great design traditions of Europe and Japan in particular where Nature is integrated into the world of human habitation
