Shit Adults Never Taught Us

Natasha Sattler,2021-04-16 A SNAPSHOT REVIEW OF THE THINGS YOU DIDN T LEARN IN SCHOOL IN QUICK HILARIOUS CHAPTERS Wouldn t it be awesome if life had a manual Not for your daily how tos like cooking or ironing but for when the real shit pops up The money shit we have no idea how to navigate like negotiating a raise or buying a car The relationship shit that slaps us in the face as we turn into full fledged adults like surviving a gut wrenching breakup and having the courage to fall in love The mind fucks that sneak into our brains after puberty like a ninja and set up camps of anxiety loneliness and regret The life shit that somehow was completely ignored throughout more than a decade of schooling like protecting your privacy online traveling on any budget and finding motivation when it seems impossible We've made it this far but after countless conversations with friends it became obvious to me that our childhood education had a ton of gaps Sure we learned linear equations and got to dissect frogs for some reason but no one taught us what the difference between an HMO and a PPO was and why it's important I took several years of Algebra but not once was a Mutual Funds class offered That's where Shit Adults Never Taught Us comes in This book picks up where the adults left off and helps fill in all our insufficient knowledge by going beyond the Google search bar Disguised as a self-help book this mini memoir uses personal experiences including some epic failures to guide you through the most perplexing moments in life Shit Adults Never Taught Us covers a lot of topics including career strategies mental health emotional quandaries and navigating all of the WTF moments of adulthood So into unsung models of success beyond the two dominant narratives of Asia's Tiger Economies and America's Silicon Valley miracle. The author describes these stories of success as black swan events and ascribes their achievements to the ability of entrepreneurs to leverage the place surplus of their locations while building connections to support networks outside their immediate geographies. Including case studies such as Skype in Estonia, SoundCloud in Germany and Bayt Com in Dubai, this insightful book gives a holistic and wide-ranging view of how technology startups have and can succeed in less likely places.

Assessment for Experiential Learning Cecilia Ka Yuk Chan, 2022-09-29. Chan's book explores the challenges in assessing experiential learning, deepens our understanding, and inspires readers to think critically about the purpose of assessment in experiential learning. Experiential learning has been studied and proven to be effective for student learning, particularly for the development of holistic competencies, i.e. 21st-century skills, soft skills, transferable skills, considered essential for individuals to succeed in the increasingly global and technology-infused 21st-century society. Universities around the world are now actively organising experiential learning activities or programmes for students to gain enriching and diversified learning experiences; however, the assessment of these programmes tends to be limited, unclear, and contested. Assessment plays a central role in education policies and students' approach to learning. But do educators know how to assess less traditional learning such as service learning, entrepreneurship, cross-discipline or cross-cultural projects, internships, and student exchanges? While the current assessment landscape is replete with assessments that measure knowledge of core content areas such as mathematics, law, languages, science, and social studies, there is a lack of assessments and research that focus on holistic competencies. How do we assess students' ability to think critically, problem-solve, adapt, self-manage, and collaborate? Central to the discussion in this book is the reason students are assessed and how they should be assessed to bring out their best learning outcomes. Offering a collection of best assessment practice employed by teachers around the world, this volume brings together both theoretical and empirical research that underpins assessment and perceptions of different stakeholders' understanding of assessment in experiential learning from students, teachers, and policymakers. The idea of assessment literacy also plays an important role in experiential learning; for example, reflection is often used in assessing students in experiential learning, but how reflection-literate are educators? Are they aware of the ethical dilemmas that arise in assessing students? These questions are discussed in detail. The volume also introduces a quality assurance programme to recognise student development within experiential learning programmes. The book will be particularly informative to academic developers, teachers, students, and community partners who struggle with the development and assessment for experiential learning; those who plan to apply for funding in experiential learning; and policymakers and senior managements seeking evidence and advice on fine-tuning curricular assessment designs and quality assurance. The Open Access version of this book is available at www.taylorfrancis.com and has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 license. Commerce Business Daily, 1998-11.
