Podcasting in a Platform Age John L. Sullivan, 2024-01-25 Podcasting in a Platform Age explores the transition underway in podcasting by considering how the influx of legacy and new media interest in the medium is injecting professional and corporate logics into what had been largely an amateur media form. Many of the most high profile podcasts today however are produced by highly skilled media professionals some of whom are employees of media corporations. Legacy radio and new media platform giants like Google, Apple, Amazon, and Spotify are also making big and expensive moves in the medium by acquiring content producers and hosting platforms. This book focuses on three major aspects of this transformation: formalization, professionalization, and monetization. Through a close read of online and press discourse, analysis of podcasts themselves, participant observations at podcast trade shows and conventions, and interviews with industry professionals and individual podcasters, John Sullivan outlines how the efforts of industry players to transform podcasting into a profitable medium are beginning to challenge the very definition of podcasting itself. Streaming Video Resources for Teaching, Learning, and Research Julie A. DeCesare, 2014-03-27 According to a 2012 Ithaka study, 80 percent of faculty in the humanities and 70 percent in social sciences use video film and non-textual resources for teaching undergraduates. Streaming video is not simply an accommodation to distance learners; rather, it's an expectation for the curriculum and a valuable tool for teaching critical thinking skills, analysis, and the use of primary sources. This issue of Library Technology Reports will help you recommend high quality video resources for faculty and researchers with information on 75 YouTube channels for teaching, learning, and research; 11 interdisciplinary video and multimedia sites with annotations on features and content; 6 open access course collections; 5 university channels and collections; Using video with Moodle, Sakai, LibGuides, or WordPress; Mass market video sites that offer library friendly business models.
