Helmets and Body Armor in Modern Warfare Bashford Dean, 2014-08-07 This Is A New Release Of The Original 1920 Edition Helmets and Body Armor in Modern Warfare Bashford Dean, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1920 edition Excerpt helmet The lateral flanges then at least in one model project

upward and form ornamental processes suggesting the wings of the hat of Hermes Two ornaments appear on this helmet the first is a repousse scroll centering on the point which pivots the visor the second is a Swiss cross embossed on the forehead The lining is detachable by means of a clasp it is held on a carrier made of rattan which has a circular brow band and above it two intersecting arches at their point of intersection a small cushion is placed which supports the main weight of the helmet The brow band of this carrier is provided with pads or cushions which alternate with spaces in order to insure comfort in wearing The cushions are arranged in separate pockets and can be stuffed to fit the size of the individual head a type of cushioning well known in the German lining The chin strap is also similar to the German It is said that the cushioning of this helmet is elastic and that it resists adequately the shock of a blow The present helmet is criticised as being badly balanced and this may well be the case for the visor extends far in front of the helmet and would naturally cause it to tilt forward when in use Also it is noted that the perforations of the visor are so numerous that while tending to restore the balance of the helmet they notably diminish its value as a defense The ornaments on this helmet are also regarded as undesirable A model embodying suggestions for a Swiss helmet is said to have been made by M Dunand in December 1916 It was sent to Switzerland and on February 17 it was returned to the French inventor Shortly thereafter the helmet described above appeared as the design of Charles le Platenier of La Chaux de Fonds Be this as it
